Civic Leaders Pay Tribute To Cooper And Thompson

By ROBERT POPP

Joseph W. C. Cooper and W. Leland Thompson were honored Tuesday night by 150 public officials, civic leaders and friends with surprise presentation of plaques honoring their service to their community.

Thompson was presented an "outstanding citizen" award hailing his "many unselfish and generous contributions to the City of East Liverpool" and Cooper received an "award of merit" for his "16 years of faithful and devoted service" as city solicitor, a post he left late in 1967.

THE AWARDS were made at a Country Club dinner program in which Robert E. Boyce, president of the First National Bank, paid tribute to Cooper and Thompson and pointed out some of their community services.

Councilman Robert W. Samples made the presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Thompson. The big metal plaque, mounted on hardwood, reads:

"Outstanding citizen award presented to W. Leland Thompson for his many unselfish and generous contributions to the City of East Liverpool. Through his efforts and generosity, our community has benefitted greatly. Presented April 23, 1968, by grateful citizens."

Solicitor J. Michael Kapp made the presentation of a similar plaque to Cooper. It reads:

"Award of merit presented to Joseph W. C. Cooper for 16 years of faithful and devoted service to the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, as city solicitor. From a grateful community, April 23, 1968."

Ralph A. Finley, toastmaster, introduced guests. The Rev. Phillip Carl of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church gave the invocation and benediction. The banquet room was crowded with present and past city officials, businessmen and civic leaders.

Some Of Injured Undergo Treatment At City Hospital

At least 20 men were injured in an explosion — apparently caused by gas — in a construction project at the Ohio Edison Co. power plant at Stratton shortly after 10 a. m. today.

Four were rushed to City Hospital here, 16 to the Ohio Valley General Hospital at Steubenville and perhaps more to other hospitals, reports from the site indicated.

No one was reported killed.

The explosion took place inside the No. 6 boiler, the newest piece of construction at the facility, about 100 feet above the floor level, a witness said.

Cutting Through Air Duct

Milt Davis, superintendent of Thompson & Bottum Co., a contractor, said boilermakers were cutting through an air duct when the gas apparently ignited.

Whether the gas consisted of combustible exhaust fumes, propane gas or some other explosive gas was uncertain.

A cloud of dust soared into the air, but no serious fire followed, he said.

Admitted to City Hospital here were Robert Charlton of East Liverpool RD 1, William Wiley of St. Clairsville and Frank Slack of Bulger RD 1, Pa. George Druga of Coraopolis was treated and was transferred to Sewickley Valley Hospital.

All three men admitted to the hospital here were listed in "fair" condition. Wiley sustained abrasions and contusions of the back, Slack suffered burns of the face and Charlton received a possible head injury.

Some of the workers at the blast site were dazed, James Mook, superintendent of construction at Ohio Edison, said. He added he didn't think any were critically hurt.

However, Davis said one man may have been seriously injured.

Ambulances Rushed

Ambulances were summoned from East Liverpool, Wellsville, Toronto and elsewhere. Stratton officials telephoned East Liverpool police at 10:15 and request-

Lynch Quits High School Position Here

The resignation of Clifford Lynch, East Liverpool High School principal for two years, was announced today by Lynch and Supt. Paul Blair.

Reports that Lynch would leave have been circulating for some weeks, but Lynch did not write his letter of resignation until Tuesday.

Lynch indicated he plans to further his studies toward a doctorate degree.

Blair emphasized he has interviewed no one for the vacated post, will present Lynch's letter during the next board meeting, but will have no recommendations for filling the position at that time.

"Cliff says in his letter," Blair noted, "he feels he must accept at his age challenges that are available in other areas.

"To my knowledge, he has not accepted another position in another school system," Blair continued.

4 Claimed In Kentucky, Damage Heavy

Tornado Death Toll Mounts To 14; 10 In Ohio Victims Of Twisters

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes struck small communities in Kentucky and Ohio Tuesday, dealing out death and destruction. Twisters hit two towns in Michigan, causing property damage but no fatalities.

The death count stood at 14 with scores injured and hundreds homeless. There were eight victims in the Wheelersburg, Ohio, area, four in Falmouth, Ky., and two near Cincinnati. Property damage was great at Frontier, Mich., but only one injury was reported.

"We were going through a taste of death right there," reported Henry Dance, 77, a Falmouth resident who was at home with his wife.

"It sounded like a clap of thunder," he said, "and then the roof began to fall. Holding on to each other, we fell down by the divan and part of the floor fell on us. The Lord saved us, that's all."

A residential area of about six square blocks bore the brunt of the storm in Falmouth, a community of 2,600 in northern Kentucky. The business section of town was largely spared.

The twister, swirling out of thunderstorms Tuesday, struck at midafternoon at points near the Ohio river.

"We saw the funnel coming," reported Mrs. William Clinger, who works at the Falmouth Outlook, a weekly newspaper. "All of us ran into the basement. There was a horrible noise, like a train coming. Then it hit."

Mrs. Lewis Mockbee, 72, said, "It just began to blow, then the hail came, breaking out windows. I got down into a corner and prayed." The Mockbee home was spared, but a garage was destroyed.

Falmouth Mayor Max Goldberg said about one-third of the small farming community was destroyed. He said property damage would run between $2 and $3 million.

Gov. Louie B. Nunn of Kentucky rushed to the scene of devastation. He said quick preliminary estimates show that at least 75 homes "were damaged to the extent of $15,000 each."

The victims were an elderly couple and two small children. More than 100 injuries were reported. At one point Pendleton County Hospital reported it handled so many patients that officials were not even sure of how many had been admitted.

To the east some 125 miles, Wheelersburg reeled under the vicious eye of another twister. The count of injured stood at 75 while rescue workers still crawled over the wreckage of more than 40 homes searching for other victims.

The tornado cut a swath through several subdivisions, leveling or damaging houses and business places in its path. Wheelersburg is an unincorporated community eight miles east of Portsmouth, Ohio.

Near Cincinnati, tornadoes hit western Clermont County and

Sheriff Candidates Heard

By LIDA SMITH

Six of 10 candidates who will seek nomination for sheriff of Hancock County in the May 15 primary election Tuesday night laid their positions on the political line during prepared talks and in what at times became a rather heated question - and-answer period.

Their viewpoints were outlined during a public meeting at Chester City Hall sponsored by the Chester Ministerial Association.

PARTICIPATING were Mickey Mallas, Democrat; Robert D. Wright, Democrat; John C. Moore, Republican, and Ralph J. Patrick Jr., Republican, all of Weirton; Harold Miller, Republican, of Chester, and Jack Evans, Democrat, of New Cumberland.

The Rev. Donald Bell of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, chairman of the program, pointed out that all 10 candidates had been invited to appear.

The Rev. Randall Prince of the First Methodist Church served as moderator. Each candidate was allotted 15 minutes during the opening presentation, though most took less time.

A summary of their remarks follows:

MALLAS — The first to speak, he began by calling himself a "doer" when it comes to his work. He said his objectives would include protection of youth from the "dangerous and unabated rise of juvenile delinquency and teenage vice in the county."

He would, he said, hire a full - time matron for the care of girls and women involved in law violations and inaugurate "an efficient patrolling system for maximum safety for county residents."

He pledged to work for a smaller budget than that at present "to help reduce taxes." He said he would be available on a 24-hour basis.

He declared he is against "syndicated gambling" which "gives an odd smell to politics."

Wellsville Residents Get Report On Route 7 Work

By HAROLD TAGGART

The $8 million project to relocate Route 7 through Wellsville should be completed by 1972, Levi Kimball, deputy director of Division 11 of the Ohio Highway Department, told members and guests at the Wellsville Kiwanis Club luncheon Tuesday.

Construction is scheduled to begin in November 1969 he added. All decisions have been completed and are now being incorporated into the blueprints, he pointed out.

DURING a question-and-answer session, Kimball said that once residents have completed transactions with the state to sell property they will have 30 days following receipt of the first check to move. He added that in some situations residents will be granted more time if possible.

The present deadline for all residents to be out of the area concerned is July 1969, he reported. At present, 109 of the 300 property owners have completed transactions, he added.

Kimball said that it has been his experience to run into some type of trouble every time there is construction along a river. However, the only possible difficulty foreseen so far for the construction in Wellsville will be cutting into the hillside behind the Ohio Power substation.

District Gets Storm, But Escapes Tornado

While some parts of Ohio suffered from the real thing, East Liverpool and the tri-state area fortunately received only tornado warnings during Tuesday evening's thunderstorm.

The rains came and the wind blew, but there were only isolated instances of minor damage compared with the destruction left in other river communities.

The area storm has brought cooler weather, however, with tonight's low due to be in the mid-30s.

It will be fair and cool Thursday.

A slight warming trend is expected Friday, with cooler weather returning again early next week.

GOP Regains Control Of Pennsylvania House

Clark Defeats Dent In Senate Race; McCarthy Tops Presidential Field

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— Voters renominated Sen. Joseph S. Clark, approved modernization of the state's 94-year-old constitution, and gave Sen. Eugene McCarthy's peace crusade a 5-1 victory over the field in presidential preference balloting of Tuesday's Pennsylvania primary election.

The 66-year-old Clark, an incumbent Democrat but critical of President Johnson's Vietnam policy, got the voter nod over John Dent to seek a third term in the Senate this November. He'll be opposed by U. S. Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, a 41-year-old Republican completing his fourth term in the House. Schweiker was unopposed for the GOP nomination.

Republicans regained political control of the state House of Representatives as returns trickled in Tuesday night and today. A nationwide telephone strike hampered reports on the voting. There were six special elections and Republicans needed only one victory to regain at least a bare 102-vote constitutional majority. The heavily Republican 110th district in Bradford County provided this with election of Andrew S. Moscri of Rt. 1 Rome.

Dent, a native of Jeannette, Pa., who has served in the House since 1958, refused to concede defeat to Clark. The 60-year - old Democrat, however, said before midnight "If I lose by less than 75,000 I'll consider it a moral victory."

He also ran for renomination to the House, a contest in which he won over newcomer Charles Skomski.

The third Democratic candidate, Milton H. Richeal, 46, of Beaver Falls, received 1,082 votes.

In the Republican contest in the 14th District, Chester Roser 40, of New Brighton easily defeated his opponent, John Wright, 46, of Ellwood City. Roser polled 2,499 votes and Wright 1,293.

Ho Chi Minh Walks Tightrope

In view of the tremendous amount of military aid Russia and China apparently have been giving to North Vietnam, it is difficult to see how Hanoi can maintain a posture of independence of action.

And yet North Vietnam's latest declaration, issued Monday, would seem to indicate that it has maintained a certain freedom to do things as it pleases.

The statement, which appeared in Nhan Dan, the official newspaper of North Vietnam, appeared to be a reassurance of Hanoi's determination to fight the war and negotiate for peace in its own way.

Probably the explanation lies in the fact that Russia and China are trying to pull Hanoi in opposite directions. If they were agreed, it would be easy to say to Hanoi: "Either you do as we tell you or you get no help from either of us."

If this were the case, Hanoi would have gone under long before this.

But Ho Chi Minh is foxy enough to string both Russia and China along, letting each help him with his war effort, yet kowtowing to neither. For he knows neither one wants him to fall completely under the influence of the other.

So, as long as he doesn't go along with either one, he can pretty well negotiate or not negotiate as he pleases, and, pick a site which pleases himself more than either of his backers.

Ultimately, however, Hi Chi Minh will find it increasingly difficult to walk the tightrope and will fall off on one side or the other.

American officials believe Moscow is backing the Hanoi move to negotiate with the United States while China is opposing it. It is the American hope then that when Ho Chi Minh tumbles from the wire it will be into the Russian camp.

Waiting On The Bridge

The latest warning markers and lights on the approaches to the structurally weak Chester Bridge come three months after the 2½-ton load limit was imposed due to cable corrosion.

At present, neither Ohio nor West Virginia has any specific plans on how to replace the aged span, despite the safety hazard and the economic problems created.

North Hancock County business and industrial are preparing to confer at Charleston with West Virginia officials on what steps can be taken by that state toward getting a bridge project started.

Certainly the financing, engineering and responsibility aspects of the project are complex and far-reaching. But the public has a right to ask government leaders to at least start the preliminary motions of working together to get something done.

So far, the action has been based on what private individuals or groups have attempted. Bridges should be built by governments, not committees, where the public is concerned. And it is better to build them before disaster strikes, than afterward, as in the case at Point Pleasant.

Preliminary discussions seem to center on the inevitability of a toll span here. And a two-lane bridge.

Planners must realize a replacement for the Chester Bridge should be designed not for the needs of 1968, but for 1988, to help develop this tri-state area and to accomodate the traffic of the future.

If Pennsylvania could erect in 1964 a $3,860,000 modern span to link Midland and the South Side where there is a limited traffic flow, it should not be hard to justify the immediate and future demands for a modern bridge in this expanding junction of three states.

Pa. Goes 20th Century

Pennsylvania Tuesday voted to revise the state's 19th Century constitution, accepting the proposals of the winter convention and trusting to the legislature to implement the new design.

The amendments will bring needed changes in five areas of government — legislative reapportionment, local government, state taxation and finance, and the judiciary.

The proposals were not all the original backers of reform had sought, because the convention bowed in some areas to political pressure and special interests.

The minor judiciary proved the thorniest problem for the convention, due to the hostile reaction of the justice of the peace lobby, and the judiciary proposal received the greatest opposition during the campaign.

But the voters yesterday answered the appeal of Gov. Raymond Shafer and other respected state leaders that the five measures were, if not entirely perfect, at least generally acceptable and urgently required for the best interests of the citizens for the present and future.

Democrats and Republicans joined together to bring about the reform program. Now a similar cooperative effort will be demanded to put the changes into proper form and make them work.

Man—Better Big Or Little?

Americans, long infatuated with bigness, whether it be the bigness of their automobiles or the bigness of their football and basketball players, may have to do a little rethinking if a Nobel Prize-winning chemist from Finland is correct.

Artturi I. Virtanen, who is widely known for his fight against world hunger, says Western man is eating too well and, as a result, growing too big for his own good — specifically for his heart's good.

"The man is growing higher and higher and we don't know if it is good or not," he says, adding, "I don't think it is good."

He explains that the hearts of Western man are not growing in proportion to the increasing height of their bodies. Consequently, the heart is forced to labor harder and to pump blood into more and more small blood vessels which are farther and farther away from the pumping source.

The Finnish chemist suggests that the leaner diet of the people of Asia might be better. He poses an intriguing question:

"Is the Asian type of man of a small size more fit to survive in due course of time"

Addressing a meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology, Mr. Virtanen decribed the problem as a serious one.

He told how studies involving rats that were allowed to eat as much as they wanted grew into large animals but lived 20 to 40 per cent shorter lives than rats fed a restricted diet.

The nutritionists of the world are yet to be heard from in regard to the Finnish chemist's contention. But if additional research supports his studies, resulting changes in the diet habits of Western man could have far-reaching effects on many faces of Western life.

East Germany Appeases

A form of appeasement seems to be under way behind the Iron Curtain, where constituted authority has not been in the habit of appeasing anything.

Instead of taking stern suppressive measures, the East German regime has taken action to head off possible student unrest by offering more influence to official youth organizations at universities and colleges.

Apparently alarmed by student protests and riots in West Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia, the East German government made its offer at a conference in Dresden.

Some 400 professors, students, party and government officials and youth leaders had been called together to discuss university reforms in East Germany.

The fact that the East German government is fearful of trouble from the students is conclusive evidence that neither the Berlin Wall nor the Iron Curtain can keep out influences from the West.

Although they can gleefully gloat about the disturbances in West Germany and make the most of the riots' propaganda value, East German leaders must become slightly ill when they consider the possibility of similar uprisings on their side of the Curtain.

But what is somewhat surprising is that they seem willing to appease the students by granting reforms, or at least talking about them, in advance.

Even if their action only seems to have been occasioned by a position of weakness, it gives the distinct impression that the government is yielding.

It seems one further crack, perhaps a significant one, in the Communist party control in Eastern Europe.

Road To The Pole

It's rather doubtful that a beaten track to the North Pole will be established now that a team of amateur explorers made the trek safely.

In the first place, it's cold up there; it takes quite a chunk of money to outfit for the journey; the scenery is pretty much the same; there are no hotels, motels, restaurants, cafes, and you need good compasses or you may not get back.

Then there is the law of diminishing returns. When the Peary expedition topped out at the Pole back in 1909, it really was something. The current Plaisted expedition is getting headlines, too, as the second team to successfully complete the journey. But from now on it will be old hat.

Anybody for the North Pole?

Timely Quotes

All academic administrators are forced to be mendicants, because financial problems of colleges and universities are so acute. My first budget at Columbia was about $20 million. Today it is more than $130 million. This six-fold increase in 14 years is explosive in its implications and the burdens resulting from it have fallen almost entirely on the backs of deans and presidents. How many scholarly young men want to walk into that kind of responsibility?

I think that men go into violent activities because we don't have natural activities like some animals do — hunting, for example. Women find their gratification in raising children. Us, I suppose, we have this hero impulse.

VICTOR RIESEL

Labor Solidly Behind HHH

WASHINGTON, — It isn't the money, it's the principals, in this presidential jamboree. Each campaigner is dripping with cash. It can buy instant noise, instant demonstrations, instant speech writers and instant travel.

Victor Riesel

But it can't buy an instant political machine. Today there are but two such campaign networks, the Republican party's, meshed around Dick Nixon, and organized labor's, already in ultra high gear for Hubert Humphrey

Never, but never, in its political history, has the labor movement swung in so early and taken such chances on its future political strength. Reports are that even Walter Reuther has sent word to the vice president "not to worry."

The risk labor now takes in inherent in its willingness to stand up and be counted in an arena where it has never dared to fight publicly.

And that's in the battle for delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Always, labor has made a pretense of nonpartisanship until the two party nominees were summoned to the howling, sweating convention halls. Always, labor has merely lobbied in those convention halls. Always, afterwards, it has contentedly poured it on for voter registration and caravans to the ballot boxes.

But now it has moved smack into the Democratic party. It is fighting for delegates — Humphrey delegates, of course. It is proving, quite openly, that its machinery has replaced the old big-city Democratic machines except in a few urban centers such as Mayor Daley's principality.

NEVER BEFORE has AFL-CIO President George Meany joined in a "Democrats for —— campaign committee" as he did last Thursday at the opening of the Humphrey headquarters here.

This is more than a signal shot. This is a 21-gun salute. This is the order to the rest of the movement to turn itself into a gargantuan political machine.

Those union chiefs who are running national conventions — and there are 40 such instant political platforms before the Democratic delegates meeting in Chicago — will offer their podiums to Mr. Humphrey, the Cabinet and the President himself.

Editors, preparing those big officers' reports to union convention delegates, have been told Humphrey is running, and to weave support of his candidacy and principles into the documents which must go to press long in advance of the conventions.

To some of these conventions — such as the August Steelworkers' gathering — will come as many as 3,000 delegages. They'll all be activists. For the 40 gatherings, the total will come to at least 100,000, not counting wives and staff members.

Most will be in the field for Mr. Humphrey both before and after they meet. It isn't generally realized, but unions such as the Steelworkers have 700 field organizers in regular contact with each local union. The auto workers has about the same staff.

MR. MEANY HAS SAID there are 60,000 active locals. Each has a set of officers. So have the AFL-CIO's 50 state bodies and some 800 city central labor units.

They'll be coordinated by a national Labor Committee for Humphrey, probably led by the Electrical Brotherhood's Joe Keenan, who was the advance man for the late Jack Kennedy and for President Johnson. Keenan, one of labor's most loved leaders, can turn them out — and on.

At the moment this machine is purring more quietly than the high-pitched, personal Kennedy steamroller, or the "youth machine" of the lyrical Gene McCarthy. And the Democratic politicians know it.

They are seeking the aid of these unions, not only in terms of money, manpower and expertise, but in terms of delegates. Virtually every politically sophisticated union leader has been asked to permit some of his people to go to the Democratic convention as delegates.

One of the most sought after is the Seafarers' Paul Hall. He has kept his own delegation to the Democratic convention down to three. But multiply this by 50 or 60 other unions, some with memberships of over a million.

It isn't only the union delegates who count in this operation. In scores of cities, precinct leaders of the ripped up Democratic party now know they must count on the unions for support in the congressional campaigns. So these precinct, county and state political leaders will swing with labor.

And since labor is swinging with Hubert Horatio Humphrey, the union chiefs believe they can swing the nomination to the vice president.

If they fail, they'll be waiting at the end of a very long line next winter when they wait to see the next president of the U.S. But that's the chance these very practical men now are willing to take — for the first time.

Nixon Scores

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon's talk before the American Society of Newspaper Editors here caused quite a lot of comment.

He spoke extemporaneously and answered questions posed by a panel of the editors. His replies were clear and forthright and, in almost every instance, they were followed by outbursts of applause.

Mr. Nixon's impromptu remarks on a variety of issues caused some of the editors — who had not seen him in action since the 1960 campaign — to ask what he thought about the oft-heard remark in political circles that there is a "new Nixon."

He conceded with a smile that he is eight years older and "perhaps has acquired some more wisdom."

Incidentally, the former vice president said he is in favor of a debate between presidential nominees. It is apparent that he has learned some lessons about this form of political campaigning which makes him eager to participate again in such a unique method of discussing the issues.

PERHAPS THE MOST significant observation that Mr. Nixon made was in connection with the Vietnam war. He said it is a serious mistake for politicians in either party to make derogatory statements about President Johnson's negotiations with North Vietnam.

He declared that this is a time of great delicacy and that he would not make any criticisms or discuss the negotiations until they are concluded. He argued that the President is adopting the right course in trying to get truce talks going.

Another interesting reply came from the former vice president when he was asked if he favors recognition of Red China. He said he doesn't advocate any such action now and doesn't think that the United States should alter its course with respect to the aggressive acts which are being committed in Southeast Asia.

But he believes that, as the free countries of Asia are strengthened by the aid given to them by the United States, the Chinese on the mainland will gradually change their course and be in favor of a peaceful policy toward their neighbors and the world in general.

Mr. Nixon probably drew the biggest applause when he declared that "there cannot be order in a free society without progress, and there cannot be progress without order" in American cities.

He said he is not one of those who propose merely the expenditure of more and more billions of public funds for urban areas as the sole means of curing the riots and disorders. He is convinced that private industry, in co-operation with the government, can create jobs and train the unskilled.

He warned, however, that if too much money were spent and bigger deficits in the federal budget were created, more harm would come to the persons of lower income, particularly the Negroes. He continued:

"I don't tell you today that, by spending a 100 billion or 150 or 200 billion, we can solve the Negro problem. I do say that it is a problem, however, in which we are making progress and in which we need a far greater movement of the greatest engine of progress — private enterprise — into the action and moving away from government activity.

And that is the direction in which I would move, and that will help. It may not promise as much, but it will proeuce a lot more than all of these government promises."

THE FORMER vice president got a big laugh when, during his opening remarks, he solemnly declared that he had an "announcement" to make. He said:

"I shall not seek and I shall not accept my party's nomination" — then, after a slight pause, added, "for vice president of the United States."

Mr. Nixon touched on a variety of issues — including fiscal responsibility, inflation, riots and disorders. Some of the editors, as they left the hall, commented that it was one of the best presentations of an informal nature they had ever witnessed in a campaign year.

The entire dialogue between Mr. Nixon and the editors was carried locally on radio, but it certainly would have been of interest to a nationwide television audience, too.

If all the candidates for public office subjected themselves to the kind of interrogation which the newspaper editors employed in quizzing Mr. Nixon, the American people would enjoy the discussion. They would learn far more about the candidate and his stand on issues than by hearing or reading a lengthy speech.

Mr. Nixon certainly improved his image with the press by his talk to the editors of newspapers from all parts of the country.

Ho Chi Minh Walks Tightrope

In view of the tremendous amount of military aid Russia and China apparently have been giving to North Vietnam, it is difficult to see how Hanoi can maintain a posture of independence of action.

And yet North Vietnam's latest declaration, issued Monday, would seem to indicate that it has maintained a certain freedom to do things as it pleases.

The statement, which appeared in Nhan Dan, the official newspaper of North Vietnam, appeared to be a reassurance of Hanoi's determination to fight the war and negotiate for peace in its own way.

Probably the explanation lies in the fact that Russia and China are trying to pull Hanoi in opposite directions. If they were agreed, it would be easy to say to Hanoi: "Either you do as we tell you or you get no help from either of us."

If this were the case, Hanoi would have gone under long before this.

But Ho Chi Minh is foxy enough to string both Russia and China along, letting each help him with his war effort, yet kowtowing to neither. For he knows neither one wants him to fall completely under the influence of the other.

So, as long as he doesn't go along with either one, he can pretty well negotiate or not negotiate as he pleases, and, pick a site which pleases himself more than either of his backers.

Ultimately, however, Hi Chi Minh will find it increasingly difficult to walk the tightrope and will fall off on one side or the other.

American officials believe Moscow is backing the Hanoi move to negotiate with the United States while China is opposing it. It is the American hope then that when Ho Chi Minh tumbles from the wire it will be into the Russian camp.

Waiting On The Bridge

The latest warning markers and lights on the approaches to the structurally weak Chester Bridge come three months after the 2½-ton load limit was imposed due to cable corrosion.

At present, neither Ohio nor West Virginia has any specific plans on how to replace the aged span, despite the safety hazard and the economic problems created.

North Hancock County business and industrial are preparing to confer at Charleston with West Virginia officials on what steps can be taken by that state toward getting a bridge project started.

Certainly the financing, engineering and responsibility aspects of the project are complex and far-reaching. But the public has a right to ask government leaders to at least start the preliminary motions of working together to get something done.

So far, the action has been based on what private individuals or groups have attempted. Bridges should be built by governments, not committees, where the public is concerned. And it is better to build them before disaster strikes, than afterward, as in the case at Point Pleasant.

Preliminary discussions seem to center on the inevitability of a toll span here. And a two-lane bridge.

Planners must realize a replacement for the Chester Bridge should be designed not for the needs of 1968, but for 1988, to help develop this tri-state area and to accomodate the traffic of the future.

If Pennsylvania could erect in 1964 a $3,860,000 modern span to link Midland and the South Side where there is a limited traffic flow, it should not be hard to justify the immediate and future demands for a modern bridge in this expanding junction of three states.

Pa. Goes 20th Century

Pennsylvania Tuesday voted to revise the state's 19th Century constitution, accepting the proposals of the winter convention and trusting to the legislature to implement the new design.

The amendments will bring needed changes in five areas of government — legislative reapportionment, local government, state taxation and finance, and the judiciary.

The proposals were not all the original backers of reform had sought, because the convention bowed in some areas to political pressure and special interests.

The minor judiciary proved the thorniest problem for the convention, due to the hostile reaction of the justice of the peace lobby, and the judiciary proposal received the greatest opposition during the campaign.

But the voters yesterday answered the appeal of Gov. Raymond Shafer and other respected state leaders that the five measures were, if not entirely perfect, at least generally acceptable and urgently required for the best interests of the citizens for the present and future.

Democrats and Republicans joined together to bring about the reform program. Now a similar cooperative effort will be demanded to put the changes into proper form and make them work.

Man—Better Big Or Little?

Americans, long infatuated with bigness, whether it be the bigness of their automobiles or the bigness of their football and basketball players, may have to do a little rethinking if a Nobel Prize-winning chemist from Finland is correct.

Artturi I. Virtanen, who is widely known for his fight against world hunger, says Western man is eating too well and, as a result, growing too big for his own good — specifically for his heart's good.

"The man is growing higher and higher and we don't know if it is good or not," he says, adding, "I don't think it is good."

He explains that the hearts of Western man are not growing in proportion to the increasing height of their bodies. Consequently, the heart is forced to labor harder and to pump blood into more and more small blood vessels which are farther and farther away from the pumping source.

The Finnish chemist suggests that the leaner diet of the people of Asia might be better. He poses an intriguing question:

"Is the Asian type of man of a small size more fit to survive in due course of time"

Addressing a meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology, Mr. Virtanen decribed the problem as a serious one.

He told how studies involving rats that were allowed to eat as much as they wanted grew into large animals but lived 20 to 40 per cent shorter lives than rats fed a restricted diet.

The nutritionists of the world are yet to be heard from in regard to the Finnish chemist's contention. But if additional research supports his studies, resulting changes in the diet habits of Western man could have far-reaching effects on many faces of Western life.

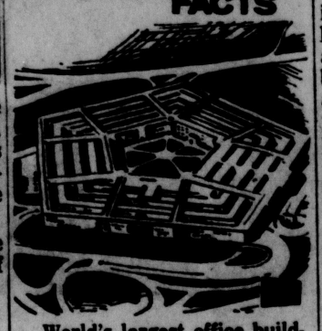
WORLD ALMANAC FACTS



World's largest office building is the Pentagon. Standing on the Virginia side of the Potomac just outside Washington, the huge five - sided building covers 34 acres, has 17 miles of corridors and houses 27,000. It was completed in 1943 at a cost of $83 million and is made up of five concentric buildings of five floors each, connected by 10 spokelike corridors.

then dipped again at Ripley in Brown County. The storm occurred shortly after the twister hit Falmouth, 35 miles south of Cincinnati.

A tornado destroyed half the homes in Frontier, Mich., a community of 300 five miles north of the Indiana State line, but only one person was reported injured, largely because Frontier was almost deserted.

The small town has no schools, so its children were educated elsewhere; it has almost no jobs to offer, so its working adults are employed elsewhere, and by happenstance most of its nonemployed womenfolk were at a club meeting in a neighboring town.

9 Drivers Fined In Traffic Cases

LISBON — Judge J. L. MacDonald of Columbiana County Southwest Court fined nine drivers Tuesday. They were:

Dougherty, Wickliffe, same, $15 each; Frank Raneri, Hanoverton, operating motor vehicle on closed section highway, $20; Ernest R. Beadnell, defective exhaust, $15; Thomas W. Webber, 1635 St. George St., East Liverpool, failure to yield the right - of - way, $15 ($10 suspended); Larry M. Wright, Hanoverton, defective exhaust, $10, and Jack R. Bowser, Lisbon RD 1, no tail lights, $10.

Forfeiting appearance bonds were Robert M. Makela, Chicago, no registration plates, $50; Joseph W. D'Allesio, East Liverpool RD 3, speeding, $50; Robert F. contact the contractor, but it is unlikely that any agreement can be reached with him because of the equipment needed, Kimball explained.

REGARDING a question about marginal properties (areas needed only during construction), nothing definite can be offered now, he added, and anyone concerned will have to mark time. The "total takes" (purchases of all one person's contiguous property) should eliminate such a problem he pointed out.

Bidding for resale of homes purchased by the state has been blocked for the present by federal involvement in the project, Kimball explained. He said he would do all possible to requisition one of the homes for the city to move to Springhill Cemetery for use by the caretaker, in response to an inquiry from J. B. Phillips, Fourth Ward councilman.

In two meetings with federal officials, agreement to go ahead with the bidding has not been forthcoming, he declared.

However, Kimball said, anyone interested in purchasing a house can forward his name and address to the Highway Department office at New Philadelphia for consideration if, and when, bidding is opened up.

The policy for selling such homes is usually through sealed bids, Kimball pointed out.

HE ALSO answered questions relative to other highway projects in the area.

He said the construction through Toronto, already in progress, should be completed by 1970.

He added that the city of Wellsville will have to pay only some $3,000 per year toward maintenance, while Toronto will pay about $65,000 per year.

Relative to questions about East Liverpool, he said consideration is being given to a new road from Monroe St. to Mulberry St., but, according to an agreement made in conjunction with the interchange, the city has to upgrade roads to the state line first.

TO A barrage of questions about a new bridge in the area, Kimball said that nothing definite has been done because West Virginia must take the initiative. Ohio will go along with almost any reasonable plan presented by that state, he said.

Since the bridge will belong to West Virginia, it will go where officials at Charleston want to place it, he added.

In connection with a remote possibility that the bridge could be constructed at Wellsville, he pointed out the access ways would probably have to be built by the city and it might be an expense Wellsville could not meet.

The present trend is for the state to keep entirely away from roads within incorporated areas, he stated. In district 11 only two areas are scheduled for road surfacing through aid from the state this year, he explained. They are Steubenville, $20,000, and East Liverpool $5,000.

Surveys have shown that 75 to 80 per cent of traffic in an incorporated area either originated there or is destined for there. Therefore, state officials believe it should be the incorporated area's responsibility to maintain its own roads.

Safety System Aims At Crossing Crashes

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP) — Donald Coakley of Golden has devised a simple system that he says would help prevent school bus crashes at railroad crossings.

The system would involve a low - powered radio transmitter in every locomotive and a simple flasher - buzzer radio receiver in the bus.

"The approaching train could then warn the driver with a flashing red light and a buzzer right on his dashboard whenever a school bus nears a crossing," Coakley said.

Anti-Crime Measure Set For Restudy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee, some of its members unsure what decision it made on control of firearms sales, is reconsidering President Johnson's anti-crime bill.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., called a closed session of the committee for today in an effort to resolve the wrangle that flared after the committee had approved the measure April 4.

Earlier that same day—and just hours before Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was assassinated by a sniper using a rifle—the panel voted down administration measures to clamp controls on sales of rifles and shot guns.

Still at issue is whether the committee voted to prohibit or merely regulate interstate mail-order sales of handguns.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., contends that under the committee's action April 4, such sales would be banned. But Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb. challenged Dodd's interpretation.

The same section also would prohibit importation of military surplus handguns, restrict imports of other weapons and regulate sales of bazookas, mortars and similar devices.

Hruska said Tuesday the draft of the firearms-control section prepared by Dodd after the April 4 meeting "is not what we agreed on in committee." Dodd, who had offered the measure orally and written it out after the vote, maintained the two versions were identical.

Taxation—Retain but narrow existing tax exemptions; require the state to return to local government units a portion of the gross receipts tax it collects from public utilities in lieu of real estate taxes on operating facilities, such as power plants.

Local Government — Provide for home rule for all local government units; create optional forms of local governments; establish uniform, statewide procedures for mergers, consolidations and boundary changes; revamp local government debt limits; provide for intergovernmental cooperation; require regular re-apportionment of local governments.

Judiciary — Establish a unified court system; reform the minor judiciary system; reduce the number of justices of the peace by about 75 per cent and abolish the fee system; provide rules for the selection, qualifications, tenure, removal, discipline and retirment of judges and justices of the peace; and create a separate Commonwealth Court with powers and duties similar to those now held by the Dauphin County Court.

2-Way Crash Injures 6 On Dresden Ave.

Six persons were injured Tuesday night in a two - way crash on Dresden Ave. that was triggered when an auto backed onto the street from the parking lot of a frozen custard store, police reported.

The backing 1964 sedan, driven by Raymond Poole, 24, of 108 E. 6th St., was struck and knocked 48 feet by a southbound 1960 station wagon operated by Robert Melott, 23, of 225 W. 8th St., officers said.

The injured included Melott and a passenger in his auto, Larry Brewer, 24, of 724 St. Clair Ave., and Poole and three passengers in his auto, Pam Lacey, 18, of McCoy Ave., April Knight, 18, of Congo, and Jack Owens, 23, of Davis St., officers reported.

Melott is in "fair" condition at City Hospital with a possible fracture of the jaw. Brewer also is "fair" with lacerations of the forehead, abrasions of the eyelids and other facial injuries.

Miss Lacey, daughter of John Lacey, was listed "fair" with a laceration of the forehead. Miss Knight, daughter of Nola Knight, suffered contusions of the right elbow and possible concussion. She also is "fair."

Poole was admitted with contusions of the right arm and chest and Owens suffered contusions of the right arm and abdomen. They also were "fair."

The crash, timed at 10:22, caused heavy damage to the right side and rear of Poole's car and the front of the station wagon, which is owned by Franklin Conrad of Shadyside, officers said.

James Glover of 190 Montana Ave., Chester, a witness, related some of the details to officers. Glover said Poole began to pull into the lot at the Dairy Queen from Dresden Ave., then backed onto the highway to allow Glover to pull off the lot. Then, he said, Poole's car was hit on the right side by the Melott car.

Melott told officers he had made a turn at a former service station about a block away and was driving south on Dresden Ave. when Poole backed into his path

Poole was charged with improper backing and Melott was charged with failure to display proper auto registration.

A police diagram showed that Poole's car traveled 48 feet after the impact and the Melott car moved 12 feet.

President Johnson's policies home and abroad, charged Clark with double talk.

The Clark - Dent vote from 6,061 of the state's 9,460 precincts showed Clark with 288,210 and Dent 231,881.

McCarthy was the only candidate on the ballot in the presidential preference voting.

With about half the vote in he piled up 219,802 votes to 22,848 write-ins for his closest rival, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, it afforded him litte in his campaign for the Democratic nomination. Pennsylvania delegations to the national conventions—both Democrat and Republican—are not bound by primary voting.

Other Democrats receiving write - ins for the presidential nomination were Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, still a non - candidate 18,040; former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama 5,574, and 6,557 for President Johnson who is not seeking renomination.

On the Republican side, with 5,115 precincts reported former Vice President Richard M. Nixon had 49,689 write-ins. Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York 18,589, Gov. Ronald Reagan of California 2,631, Wallace 2,428, Gov. Shafer 365 and Johnson 699.

Shafer, favorite son candidate for the nomination at the GOP Convention this summer, appeared to be winning a notable victory for his administration in the returns on the constitutional amendments. He had made the job of updating the state's constitution his major goal shortly after taking office last year. It could strengthen his position as head of the state's delegation to the convention.

Voters also elected delegates to the Democratic and Republican national conventions. The Pennsylvania democrat delegation has 130 votes, the Republican group 81 votes.

In another statewide contest, Mrs. Grace Sloan, incumbent auditor general running this time for the Democratic nomination for state treasurer, led by almost 3 to 1 over Mrs. June R. Reynolds of Pittsburgh.

Republican Frank J. Pasquerilla of Southmont, unopposed, is the GOP nominee for state treasurer.

Rep. John B. Hannum of Unionville and Democrat William F. Cercone of Pittsburgh cross-filed for State Superior Court nominations. Hannum led on the Republican side by some 30,000 votes, and Cercone by about 50,000 on the Democratic ballot on the basis of incomplete returns. The two obviously will fight it out in the fall.

In the state legislature, Democrats won special elections in the 17th district, Allegheny County, with the election of Eugene F. Scanlon of Pittsburgh; the 22nd district, also Allegheny County, with Frank W. O'Brien of Pittsburgh, and the 79th district, in Blair County, with Denny J. Bixler of Altoona.

Still undecided in the state legislature were the 89th district in Cumberland Franklin Counties, and the 190th district in Philadelphia. Prior to the election the Republicans were one short of a constitutional majority in the House.

Anti-Crime Measure Set For Restudy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee, some of its members unsure what decision it made on control of firearms sales, is reconsidering President Johnson's anti-crime bill.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., called a closed session of the committee for today in an effort to resolve the wrangle that flared after the committee had approved the measure April 4.

Earlier that same day—and just hours before Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was assassinated by a sniper using a rifle—the panel voted down administration measures to clamp controls on sales of rifles and shot guns.

Still at issue is whether the committee voted to prohibit or merely regulate interstate mail-order sales of handguns.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., contends that under the committee's action April 4, such sales would be banned. But Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb. challenged Dodd's interpretation.

The same section also would prohibit importation of military surplus handguns, restrict imports of other weapons and regulate sales of bazookas, mortars and similar devices.

Hruska said Tuesday the draft of the firearms-control section prepared by Dodd after the April 4 meeting "is not what we agreed on in committee." Dodd, who had offered the measure orally and written it out after the vote, maintained the two versions were identical.

Schaffer, a graduate of Penn State University, joined the company in 1941. He has held the positions of efficiency engineer, results coordinator, supervisor of safety and training, general superintendent of power stations, operating vice president, and executive vice president. Schaffer is married, has two children and resides in Pittsburgh.

ing, financial planning and auditing procedures.

Taxation—Retain but narrow existing tax exemptions; require the state to return to local government units a portion of the gross receipts tax it collects from public utilities in lieu of real estate taxes on operating facilities, such as power plants.

Local Government — Provide for home rule for all local government units; create optional forms of local governments; establish uniform, statewide procedures for mergers, consolidations and boundary changes; revamp local government debt limits; provide for intergovernmental cooperation; require regular re-apportionment of local governments.

Judiciary — Establish a unified court system; reform the minor judiciary system; reduce the number of justices of the peace by about 75 per cent and abolish the fee system; provide rules for the selection, qualifications, tenure, removal, discipline and retirment of judges and justices of the peace; and create a separate Commonwealth Court with powers and duties similar to those now held by the Dauphin County Court.

2-Way Crash Injures 6 On Dresden Ave.

Six persons were injured Tuesday night in a two - way crash on Dresden Ave. that was triggered when an auto backed onto the street from the parking lot of a frozen custard store, police reported.

The backing 1964 sedan, driven by Raymond Poole, 24, of 108 E. 6th St., was struck and knocked 48 feet by a southbound 1960 station wagon operated by Robert Melott, 23, of 225 W. 8th St., officers said.

The injured included Melott and a passenger in his auto, Larry Brewer, 24, of 724 St. Clair Ave., and Poole and three passengers in his auto, Pam Lacey, 18, of McCoy Ave., April Knight, 18, of Congo, and Jack Owens, 23, of Davis St., officers reported.

Melott is in "fair" condition at City Hospital with a possible fracture of the jaw. Brewer also is "fair" with lacerations of the forehead, abrasions of the eyelids and other facial injuries.

Miss Lacey, daughter of John Lacey, was listed "fair" with a laceration of the forehead. Miss Knight, daughter of Nola Knight, suffered contusions of the right elbow and possible concussion. She also is "fair."

Poole was admitted with contusions of the right arm and chest and Owens suffered contusions of the right arm and abdomen. They also were "fair."

The crash, timed at 10:22, caused heavy damage to the right side and rear of Poole's car and the front of the station wagon, which is owned by Franklin Conrad of Shadyside, officers said.

James Glover of 190 Montana Ave., Chester, a witness, related some of the details to officers. Glover said Poole began to pull into the lot at the Dairy Queen from Dresden Ave., then backed onto the highway to allow Glover to pull off the lot. Then, he said, Poole's car was hit on the right side by the Melott car.

Melott told officers he had made a turn at a former service station about a block away and was driving south on Dresden Ave. when Poole backed into his path

Poole was charged with improper backing and Melott was charged with failure to display proper auto registration.

A police diagram showed that Poole's car traveled 48 feet after the impact and the Melott car moved 12 feet.

President Johnson's policies home and abroad, charged Clark with double talk.

The Clark - Dent vote from 6,081 of the state's 9,460 precincts showed Clark with 288,210 and Dent 231,881.

McCarthy was the only candidate on the ballot in the presidential preference voting.

With about half the vote in he piled up 219,802 votes to 22,848 write-ins for his closest rival, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, it afforded him litte in his campaign for the Democratic nomination. Pennsylvania delegations to the national conventions—both Democrat and Republican—are not bound by primary voting.

Other Democrats receiving write - ins for the presidential nomination were Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, still a non - candidate 18,040; former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama 5,574, and 6,557 for President Johnson who is not seeking renomination.

On the Republican side, with 5,115 precincts reported former Vice President Richard M. Nixon had 49,689 write-ins, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York 18,589, Gov. Ronald Reagan of California 2,631, Wallace 2,428, Gov. Shafer 365 and Johnson 699.

Shafer, favorite son candidate for the nomination at the GOP Convention this summer, appeared to be winning a notable victory for his administration in the returns on the constitutional amendments. He had made the job of updating the state's constitution his major goal shortly after taking office last year. It could strengthen his position as head of the state's delegation to the convention.

Voters also elected delegates to the Democratic and Republican national conventions. The Pennsylvania democrat delegation has 130 votes, the Republican group 81 votes.

Republican Frank J. Pasquerilla of Southmont, unopposed, is the GOP nominee for state treasurer.

Rep. John B. Hannum of Unionville and Democrat William F. Cercone of Pittsburgh cross-filed for State Superior Court nominations. Humphrey Bids To Forge Farm, Labor Coalition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is trying in his still-unannounced bid for the Democratic presidential nomination to forge on a national scale the kind of farm-labor coalition be helped create in Minnesota.

To the surprise of no one Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman came out for Humphrey Tuesday. He said he had told President Johnson in advance of his intentions and added that he thinks Johnson is going to remain neutral.

Humphrey, who has made it clear he will run on the administration's record, already has the backing of AFL-CIO President George Meany.

Humphrey and Freeman—once a political protege of the vice president—and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, a candidate for the presidential nomination, all worked together to build the Democrat-Farmer-Labor party of Minnesota out of the wreckage of what had been the regular Democratic organization.

In other political developments:

—Nixon carried his campaign to Oregon today, still not knowing whether he will have an active opponent in the May 28 primary there. Reagan is on the ballot but his Oregon manager says there is no indication whether Reagan will campaign.

—Kennedy, pledging "I'm going to help the elderly," told a Huntington, Ind., audience minimum Social Security payments should be $150 for couples and $100 for individuals.

—McCarthy said in New York that Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford's statement the South Vietnamese will assume more of the fighting "doesn't seem to square with the announcement that we are sending in more troops and calling up more reserves."

While Freeman's support provides Humhrey an official linkage of sorts for a national farmer-labor coalition, the political value of the secretary's backing remains to be demonstrated.

East Liverpool Track Team Sweeps Past Carrollton

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Bill Musselman of Ashland College, the main speaker at the Eastern Ohio Association of Booster Clubs Banquet Monday night in Martins Ferry, emphasized discipline as a factor in making a great basketball player.

Musselman, whose team led the country in defense by a wide margin, has to have discipline to make his game plan work. A team like Ashland just does not take bad shots. His players don't score much, which takes sacrifice, he noted, but the rewards come, as shown by Ashland's fourth-place finish in the NCAA small-college tournament.

A LOOK AT the records of the two East Liverpool players honored at the affair points out the rewards of discipline and sacrifice. Earl Diddle scored 285 points and Jerry Christian 251, while everyone else on the AA team scored at least 317. Yet East Liverpool went 19-2 and the two players were honored. Allen Hornyak of Bellaire St. John's scored 813 points, twice as many as anyone on the team except Dave Reasbeck of Martins Ferry and Dave Grimes of Barnesville.

Potter coach Clint McConnell, noting that Musselman played his basketball at Wittenberg under Ray Mears, a great defensive coach now at Tennessee, related an incident that he observed concerning discipline. Wittenberg had a fast break, and one of the men on the break took a jump shot from the foul line, a low percentage shot (relatively). The ball was only a foot out of his hands when Mears had another player at the scorer's table, ready to go in. The shot went in, but the player who had taken the shot came out, and graced the bench for the rest of the contest.

BELLAIRE coach Claire Cribbs, who was named Eastern Ohio AA Coach of the Year last year, joked about a statement Musselman made. The Ashland coach had said it takes great discipline and courage not to pass the ball or shoot too much. Cribbs said he thought it took more courage to pass the ball after it had been thrown away 49 times, as his team did one night. Cribbs is a leading exponent of the running style of basketball.

DON'T BE surprised if East Liverpool's Bernie Allen gets into an American League game as a catcher. The Senators' top receiver, Paul Casanova, is sidelined with a broken finger, and the Nats are going with just one receiver, Bill Bryan. Allen has been working out behind the plate and could be pressed into service in an emergency. Allen has not seen action since opening day, when he went 0 for 1 as a pinchhitter.

Arcuragi Leads 89-29 Victory

East Liverpool won its third track meet in four starts yesterday at Patterson Field, whipping Carrollton 89-29.

Jim Render's thinclads showed great balance, with 10 different boys getting first places. Joe Arcuragi took the 120-high hurdles and tied with John Frederick for first in the pole vault.

Perry Stone doubled for the losers, taking the 100 and the long jump. No other Carrollton performer won.

To Resume Today

Beavers Trail Niles 3-0, Game Delayed By Rain

Beaver Local trailed Niles 3-0 at the end of four innings yesterday when their second-round sectional baseball game at Youngstown's Pemberton Field was halted by rain.

The two teams will resume action today at 4 p.m. at Pemberton, picking up where yesterday's action left off.

Niles had gotten six hits off Joel Petkovich, the Beavers' starter, but most were of the ground ball variety. The first three Red Dragon batters in the first, Joe Gayonski, Harlan Williams and John Zeigler, all singled, producing a run. Latter in the inning Rick Kay singled to produce a second tally.

In the second inning Gayonski was safe on a two - base throwing error by Allen Waite, and scored on a single by Williams.

The Beavers threatened in the third, but some errant base - running took them out of the inning. Gary Klembara doubled to deep center to open the frame. He had to remain at second as Waite grounded to short. Bob Flint rapped a grounder inside third and hustled into second. Klembara had to hold at third. Dan Myers hit a drive to deep center, but Klembara failed to tag up and couldn't score when Gayonski made an amazing leaping catch. Coach Lloyd Stockdale, in the third-base box, took the blame for telling Klembara to head for home. Pitcher Paul Sandin then picked Flint off second.

Niles was 4-6 and Sandin 1-3 going into the contest, their first in section play after drawing a bye. But teams like Euclid and Canton McKinley have been on the Red Dragons' schedule.

S. Africa Out Of Olympics

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — The bitter 1968 Olympic controversy that threatened the Summer Games in Mexico City ended Tuesday when South Africa was officially voted out because of its racial policies.

A spokesman for the International Olympic Committee said at least 40 negative votes, four more than the required simple majority, had been received from IOC members, deciding South Africa's fate.

The result reversed an IOC decision by postal vote during the Winter Olympics seven weeks ago to allow South Africa to compete, and expectedly will satisfy some 40 nations who spoke of boycotting the Games if South Africa competed.

Mexico, faced with a crushing financial failure as host to the $86 million Games in October if a widespread boycott took place, breathed a sigh of relief at Tuesday's decision. But it left South Africa embittered.

The Lausanne decision is illegal, immoral and unconstitutional," said Frank Braun, president of the South African Olympic Committee. He called it a "shocking rebuff."

South Africa was barred from the 1964 Games for the same reason, but the IOC, led by President Avery Brundage, voted her back in at Grenoble, France, last February.

South Africa had promised to field an integrated team that would live and travel together, but protesting countries still complained of her apartheid policy of strict segregation and that Negroes would not receive an equal chance to make the team.

Havlicek Key To NBA Playoffs

By LARRY ELDRIDGE
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers figure they have to find a way to offset the all-around play of John Havlicek tonight if they are to even their National Basketball Association final playoff series with the Boston Celtics.

"Our big problem is combating Havlicek's versatility," Laker Coach Bill van Breda Kolff said Tuesday as his club worked out while awaiting the second game of the best-of-7 series.

One part of the problem is that Havlicek is equally at home in the front or backcourt. Another is that the tireless Celtics captain seems able to run full speed virtually the full 48 minutes.

Operating from his accustomed sixth man role during most of the regular season, Havlicek still logged more minutes than any other Celtic except player-Coach Bill Russell while leading the team in scoring and assists.

Used as a starter during the playoffs, he has averaged 44 minutes per game in Boston's 13 games in the Eastern semi-finals and finals, leading the team by wide margins with a 25.3 point per game scoring average and 102 assists.

The former Ohio State star kept it up in Sunday's 107-101 opening victory over the Lakers, scoring 19 points and putting on another dazzling all-around performance.

The championship final playoff in the American Basketball Association resumes tonight with Pittsburgh at New Orleans. The best-of-7 series is tied 1-1.

Rain Plays Havoc With Sports Events

The rain that swept into the area yesterday afternoon played havoc with sports events, catching many in the middle.

Called off completely were the Ursuline at East Liverpool, East Palestine at Beaver Local, Midland at Hopewell and United at Leetonia golf; South Side at Hopewell baseball; and the Wellsville at East Palestine, Beaver Local at Crestview, Minerva at United and Leetonia at Greenford track meets. There were nine events completed at East Palestine.

Columbiana led West Branch 52-25 in track when the rains came and it was decided to complete the meet at another date.

Central Tops Oak Glen Baseballers

Oak Glen traveled to Steubenville Central yesterday and dropped its third straight baseball game, 3-2.

The game was called after the top of the sixth because of rain.

Davenport's Slam Leads Giant 7-1 Win

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Juan Marichal moaned and Jim Davenport groaned, but nobody in the San Francisco locker room took them very seriously.

"I don't like to pitch in this cold weather," said Marichal of the 46-degree Philadelphia temperature as if the Giants had lost instead of beating the Phillies 7-1 Tuesday night. "It's tough to get loose and you can't sweat very good."

"I didn't figure I hit the grand-slam homer too good," said Davenport. But those four of his five runs batted in for the evening were not quite that easy to shrug off. At least not to the Phips.

Marichal's victory was his third of the season without a defeat. Of his last 80 victories, 79 have been complete games. Philadelphia had 10 hits off Marichal but couldn't do much with them.

In other National League games, St. Louis beat Cincinnati 4-2 in 10 innings, Chicago crushed Atlanta 10-4 and New York stopped Houston 3-1. Los Angeles and Pittsburgh were rained out.

Davenport's homer was his first of the season and the third with the bases full of his career.

Lou Brock's two-run homer in the 10th won for the Cardinals, who were trailing 2-0 going into the ninth. George Culver was hurling a four-hitter but was lifted after a walk and a single. Tony Perez' throwing error opened the gates for the tying runs.

The Cubs erupted for six runs in the fourth inning in a battle between Joe Niekro, the Chicago pitcher, and his brother Phil, who threw for the Braves.

"I didn't exactly outpitch him," said Joe of Phil. "I didn't have great stuff. He struck me out on four good knucklers and he shouldn't do that. He should give his little brother nothing but fastballs down the middle."

The Mets got another fine pitching performance from Jerry Koosman, even though his shutout streak ended at 21 innings. The rookie gave up only four hits and struck out 11. The Mets took advantage of four Astros' errors to score the winning runs.

Monbouquette Impresses As Yankees Beat Oakland

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bill Monbouquette's smooth finishing touch has gotten the New York Yankees past the next-to-last rough spot on their high road home.

Monbouquette, a wily, 31-year-old craftsman, pitched eight innings of scoreless, two-hit relief Tuesday night as the Yankees cuffed the Oakland Athletics 6-3.

The victory was the fifth in six games on the road for the Yankees, who meet the A's again tonight before returning home for a four-game series against the torrid Detroit Tigers.

In the only other AL game played Tuesday night, Ken McMullen's three-run homer in the first inning powered the Washington Senators to a 3-1 victory over the California Angels. Three other games were postponed due to bad weather.

Monbouquette replaced Yankee starter Al Downing, who was making his first appearance of the year, in the second inning.

The Yankees had tagged right-hander Chuck Dobson for four unearned runs in the first inning. The A's countered with three off Downing in the bottom of the first.

Monbouquette, who lost his first start and then beat California 6-1 last Thursday with a route-going five-hitter, retired the first 11 and last 12 A's he faced. He struck out three, walked none and lowered his earned run average to 0.87 in 23 innings' work.

Two walks around an error by shortstop Ted Kubiak set the stage for New York's first inning burst. One run scored on Roy White's sacrifice fly, two more on a double by Bill Robinson and the fourth on a single by Jake Gibbs.

Gibbs and Monbouquette rapped run-scoring singles in the sixth, completing the Yanks' attack.

Bert Campaneris' single, doubles by Reggie Jackson and Sal Bando and a sacrifice fly by Mike Hershberger produced the three first inning runs for the A's, who have dropped five straight games.

McMullen's second homer of the season followed first inning singles by Del Unser and Hank Allen and pinned the loss on California southpaw George Brunet. Phil Ortega was the winner for the Senators with sixth inning relief help from Darold Knowles.

The Senators have won five of their last six—all on the road—while the Angels have lost six of eight.

Oak Glen Wins Golf In Rain

Oak Glen edged Wellsburg 186-192 in a golf match shortened by rain at Highland Springs Country Club at Wellsburg yesterday.

The coaches agreed to count the total strokes at the time of the rain rather than use match play scoring as usual. Of the finishers, Phil Hudok of the Golden Bears was medalist with a 44. Dick Burig's swingers are unbeaten in three matches.

The Alou brothers, Felipe, Jesus and Mateo, formed the starting outfield for the San Francisco Giants in one game in 1963.

East Liverpool Track Team Sweeps Past Carrollton

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Bill Musselman of Ashland College, the main speaker at the Eastern Ohio Association of Booster Clubs Banquet Monday night in Martins Ferry, emphasized discipline as a factor in making a great basketball player.

Musselman, whose team led the country in defense by a wide margin, has to have discipline to make his game plan work. A team like Ashland just does not take bad shots. His players don't score much, which takes sacrifice, he noted, but the rewards come, as shown by Ashland's fourth-place finish in the NCAA small-college tournament.

A LOOK AT the records of the two East Liverpool players honored at the affair points out the rewards of discipline and sacrifice. Earl Diddle scored 285 points and Jerry Christian 251, while everyone else on the AA team scored at least 317. Yet East Liverpool went 19-2 and the two players were honored. Allen Hornyak of Bellaire St. John's scored 813 points, twice as many as anyone on the team except Dave Reasbeck of Martins Ferry and Dave Grimes of Barnesville.

Potter coach Clint McConnell, noting that Musselman played his basketball at Wittenberg under Ray Mears, a great defensive coach now at Tennessee, related an incident that he observed concerning discipline. Wittenberg had a fast break, and one of the men on the break took a jump shot from the foul line, a low percentage shot (relatively). The ball was only a foot out of his hands when Mears had another player at the scorer's table, ready to go in. The shot went in, but the player who had taken the shot came out, and graced the bench for the rest of the contest.

BELLAIRE coach Claire Cribbs, who was named Eastern Ohio AA Coach of the Year last year, joked about a statement Musselman made. The Ashland coach had said it takes great discipline and courage not to pass the ball or shoot too much. Cribbs said he thought it took more courage to pass the ball after it had been thrown away 49 times, as his team did one night. Cribbs is a leading exponent of the running style of basketball.

DON'T BE surprised if East Liverpool's Bernie Allen gets into an American League game as a catcher. The Senators' top receiver, Paul Casanova, is sidelined with a broken finger, and the Nats are going with just one receiver, Bill Bryan. Allen has been working out behind the plate and could be pressed into service in an emergency. Allen has not seen action since opening day, when he went 0 for 1 as a pinchhitter.

Arcuragi Leads 89-29 Victory

East Liverpool won its third track meet in four starts yesterday at Patterson Field, whipping Carrollton 89-29.

Jim Render's thinclads showed great balance, with 10 different boys getting first places. Joe Arcuragi took the 120-high hurdles and tied with John Frederick for first in the pole vault.

Perry Stone doubled for the losers, taking the 100 and the long jump. No other Carrollton performer won.

To Resume Today

Beavers Trail Niles 3-0, Game Delayed By Rain

Beaver Local trailed Niles 3-0 at the end of four innings yesterday when their second-round sectional baseball game at Youngstown's Pemberton Field was halted by rain.

The two teams will resume action today at 4 p.m. at Pemberton, picking up where yesterday's action left off.

Niles had gotten six hits off Joel Petkovich, the Beavers' starter, but most were of the ground ball variety. The first three Red Dragon batters in the first, Joe Gayonski, Harlan Williams and John Zeigler, all singled, producing a run. Latter in the inning Rick Kay singled to produce a second tally.

In the second inning Gayonski was safe on a two - base throwing error by Allen Waite, and scored on a single by Williams.

The Beavers threatened in the third, but some errant base - running took them out of the inning. Gary Klembara doubled to deep center to open the frame. He had to remain at second as Waite grounded to short. Bob Flint rapped a grounder inside third and hustled into second. Klembara had to hold at third. Dan Myers hit a drive to deep center, but Klembara failed to tag up and couldn't score when Gayonski made an amazing leaping catch. Coach Lloyd Stockdale, in the third-base box, took the blame for telling Klembara to head for home. Pitcher Paul Sandin then picked Flint off second.

Niles was 4-6 and Sandin 1-3 going into the contest, their first in section play after drawing a bye. But teams like Euclid and Canton McKinley have been on the Red Dragons' schedule.

S. Africa Out Of Olympics

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — The bitter 1968 Olympic controversy that threatened the Summer Games in Mexico City ended Tuesday when South Africa was officially voted out because of its racial policies.

A spokesman for the International Olympic Committee said at least 40 negative votes, four more than the required simple majority, had been received from IOC members, deciding South Africa's fate.

The result reversed an IOC decision by postal vote during the Winter Olympics seven weeks ago to allow South Africa to compete, and expectedly will satisfy some 40 nations who spoke of boycotting the Games if South Africa competed.

Mexico, faced with a crushing financial failure as host to the $86 million Games in October if a widespread boycott took place, breathed a sigh of relief at Tuesday's decision. But it left South Africa embittered.

The Lausanne decision is illegal, immoral and unconstitutional," said Frank Braun, president of the South African Olympic Committee. He called it a "shocking rebuff."

South Africa was barred from the 1964 Games for the same reason, but the IOC, led by President Avery Brundage, voted her back in at Grenoble, France, last February.

South Africa had promised to field an integrated team that would live and travel together, but protesting countries still complained of her apartheid policy of strict segregation and that Negroes would not receive an equal chance to make the team.

Havlicek Key To NBA Playoffs

By LARRY ELDRIDGE
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers figure they have to find a way to offset the all-around play of John Havlicek tonight if they are to even their National Basketball Association final playoff series with the Boston Celtics.

"Our big problem is combating Havlicek's versatility," Laker Coach Bill van Breda Kolff said Tuesday as his club worked out while awaiting the second game of the best-of-7 series.

One part of the problem is that Havlicek is equally at home in the front or backcourt. Another is that the tireless Celtics captain seems able to run full speed virtually the full 48 minutes.

Operating from his accustomed sixth man role during most of the regular season, Havlicek still logged more minutes than any other Celtic except player-Coach Bill Russell while leading the team in scoring and assists.

Used as a starter during the playoffs, he has averaged 44 minutes per game in Boston's 13 games in the Eastern semi-finals and finals, leading the team by wide margins with a 25.3 point per game scoring average and 102 assists.

The former Ohio State star kept it up in Sunday's 107-101 opening victory over the Lakers, scoring 19 points and putting on another dazzling all-around performance.

The championship final playoff in the American Basketball Association resumes tonight with Pittsburgh at New Orleans. The best-of-7 series is tied 1-1.

Rain Plays Havoc With Sports Events

The rain that swept into the area yesterday afternoon played havoc with sports events, catching many in the middle.

Called off completely were the Ursuline at East Liverpool, East Palestine at Beaver Local, Midland at Hopewell and United at Leetonia golf; South Side at Hopewell baseball; and the Wellsville at East Palestine, Beaver Local at Crestview, Minerva at United and Leetonia at Greenford track meets. There were nine events completed at East Palestine.

Columbiana led West Branch 52-25 in track when the rains came and it was decided to complete the meet at another date.

Central Tops Oak Glen Baseballers

Oak Glen traveled to Steubenville Central yesterday and dropped its third straight baseball game, 3-2.

Koosman Wins 3rd Straight For Mets

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The folks out in Appleton, Minn. must be very proud of young Jerry Koosman these days. The big farm boy ranks among the pitching leaders with a perfect 3-0 record for the New York Mets.

The young left-hander's string of scoreless innings was broken at 21 Tuesday but he went all the way with a four-hitter against Houston and won 3-1 with the help of four errors by the Astros.

It was a chilly day and only 3,581 (third smallest crowd in Shea Stadium history) turned out for the afternoon game. It seemed as though there were that many newsmen in the home clubhouse, crowding around Koosman after the game.

In case you haven't heard. Koosman is the young man who was recommended to the Mets through an usher at the old Polo Grounds. Jerry's catcher at Fort Bliss, Tex.. tipped off his father, the usher, and the Mets eventually grabbed a prize for $1,200.

Koosman is 24 and married now. He lives in Morris, Minn. during the off season but his father still runs a 600-acre farm 11 miles north of Appleton.

Although Koosman pitched semi-pro ball in Minnesota, he learned the trade at Fort Bliss where he had a 20-3 service record.

"Most of the clubs, except the (New York) Yankees and Washington were interested in me but only Minnesota and the Mets talked money," he said. "I finally signed with Red Murff (Met scout) for $1,200."

In his first start this season Koosman shut out Los Angeles 4-0, on a four-hitter. In his second appearance he blanked San Francisco 3-0, striking out 10. He fanned 11 Astros Tuesday to make it three in a row.

The only run came in the fourth, driven in by Bob Aspromonte's double.

Slumping White Sox Feel Good

CHICAGO (AP) — Just what is there to say when you've lost all nine games of the season and if you don't win before No. 13 you have matched an all-time major league record?

The Chicago White Sox, a hot preseason American League pennant choice, are in this spot.

They got a reprieve Tuesday night when their game with the Boston Red Sox was postponed due to cold weather. Their next stop is the opening of a four-game series with the Twins in Minnesota Thursday.

So, what is everybody saying?

Sox Manager Eddie Stanky:

"I feel like a pro. I'm not on tranquilizers or sleeping pills. I don't need them. I go to bed around 10 p.m. and I feel great when I get up. I haven't lost any weight. I'm still 168 pounds. I'm 48 and feel 38."

General Manager Ed Short:

"I've been talking to a couple of clubs about a possible trade since this losing streak began. We are looking for somebody who can get a little wood on the ball. This is the most difficult time of the year to make trades. We are not at the point of panicking."

First baseman Tom McCraw who is in a 1-for-19 batting slump:

"We've had the chewing-out, the let's loosen-up and the have-a-beer-routine. That's all a lot of rahrah junk. We just have to guts this one out. There's no sense doing anything rash until our losses hit double figures. Then, I guess, we'll have to try something different."

Monaca Nips Midland 2-1 In Section

Midland opened Section 4 baseball play Tuesday at Monaca and dropped a heartbreaker 2-1.

The Leopards of Joe Hamilton trailed 2-0 going into the sixth inning, but looked to be in good shape when Larry Smith got a pinch-hit single and scored on a triple by Fred Oberg. But winning pitcher Pete Petroski fanned the next three hitters, stranding Oberg at third, and the rains prevented further play.

George Mraovic pitched a strong two-hitter for Midland, fanning eight and walking only one. One run off him was unearned.

Jimmy Ellis Can't Hate Ring Foe

By JIM CHURCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

OAKLAND (AP) — Jimmy Ellis is a picture of humility.

A grown-up middleweight boxer who a few years ago was known mainly as Cassius Clay's sparring partner, the soft spoken Ellis would be least likely to shout, "I am the greatest!"

Saturday night he fights Jerry Quarry for the World Boxing Association heavyweight title, lifted from Clay when he refused military induction, and has the potential to become a millionaire.

"I'm thankful the tournament gave me a chance," says Ellis. "I think I can beat Jerry Quarry. I also think I can beat Muhammed Ali"—Clay.

The 28-year-old from Louisville was the last man to beat Clay. They fought twice as amateurs, each winning once.

Ellis defeated Leotis Martin and Oscar Bonavena to reach the finals of the WBA's elimination tournament.

Asked how he is preparing for Quarry, Ellis says, "Boxing is a business but you've got to like it and I like it fine.

"I disagree with people who say you've got to be a killer. I consider myself a professional. I won't run from Quarry but I'll do what I must to win. He'll have a hard time hitting me.

"I have confidence in my ability. I have never lost my head in the ring nor even reached the point of anger where I do drastic things.

"I can't bring myself to hate anybody, but I can bring myself to whip somebody."

Rochester Tops Western In Track

Rochester topped Western Beaver 58-41 in a track meet curtailed by rain on the Rams' cinders Tuesday.

Dwayne Cooper won the 100- and 220-yard dashes and was second in the low hurdles for the Golden Beavers. Dave Grimm won the two - mile and Mike Lacey took the discus and the shot, setting a new personal high in the discus. Lacey was also second in the triple jump.

Last Friday New Brighton crushed Western 110-26. Dave LeFebvre won the 880, Grimm the two - mile, Lacey the shot and John Tennerelli the pole vault.

Monaca Nips Midland 2-1 In Section

Midland opened Section 4 baseball play Tuesday at Monaca and dropped a heartbreaker 2-1.

The Leopards of Joe Hamilton trailed 2-0 going into the sixth inning, but looked to be in good shape when Larry Smith got a pinch-hit single and scored on a triple by Fred Oberg. But winning pitcher Pete Petroski fanned the next three hitters, stranding Oberg at third, and the rains prevented further play.

George Mraovic pitched a strong two-hitter for Midland, fanning eight and walking only one. One run off him was unearned.

Jimmy Ellis Can't Hate Ring Foe

By JIM CHURCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

OAKLAND (AP) — Jimmy Ellis is a picture of humility.

A grown-up middleweight boxer who a few years ago was known mainly as Cassius Clay's sparring partner, the soft spoken Ellis would be least likely to shout, "I am the greatest!"

Saturday night he fights Jerry Quarry for the World Boxing Association heavyweight title, lifted from Clay when he refused military induction, and has the potential to become a millionaire.

"I'm thankful the tournament gave me a chance," says Ellis. "I think I can beat Jerry Quarry. I also think I can beat Muhammed Ali"—Clay.

The 28-year-old from Louisville was the last man to beat Clay. They fought twice as amateurs, each winning once.

Ellis defeated Leotis Martin and Oscar Bonavena to reach the finals of the WBA's elimination tournament.

Asked how he is preparing for Quarry, Ellis says, "Boxing is a business but you've got to like it and I like it fine.

"I disagree with people who say you've got to be a killer. I consider myself a professional. I won't run from Quarry but I'll do what I must to win. He'll have a hard time hitting me.

"I have confidence in my ability. I have never lost my head in the ring nor even reached the point of anger where I do drastic things.

"I can't bring myself to hate anybody, but I can bring myself to whip somebody."

Rochester Tops Western In Track

Rochester topped Western Beaver 58-41 in a track meet curtailed by rain on the Rams' cinders Tuesday.

Dwayne Cooper won the 100- and 220-yard dashes and was second in the low hurdles for the Golden Beavers. Dave Grimm won the two - mile and Mike Lacey took the discus and the shot, setting a new personal high in the discus. Lacey was also second in the triple jump.

Last Friday New Brighton crushed Western 110-26. Dave LeFebvre won the 880, Grimm the two - mile, Lacey the shot and John Tennerelli the pole vault.

Beats Chicago 4-2

Montreal Wins Again, Bidding For Sweep

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens are on the threshold of pulling off what could become one of the greatest coups in the annals of hockey.

Their 4-2 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks gave them a 3-0 lead in the best-of-7 series following their four-game sweep over Boston. A victory Thursday night against the Hawks would end the current series and give them the East Division title.

After that, the Canadiens face the expansion winner—St. Louis or Minnesota—for the coveted Stanley Cup and they could defeat the expansion champions in four straight.

Chances are that such an opportunity for a 12-game sweep will never again be presented but the Canadiens aren't thinking about it. Well, not really.

"All we're doing is looking for another win here against Chicago," said Canadien Coach Toe Blake. "Listen, those Hawks are a pretty good club and you just don't go around talking about a four-game sweep against the Black Hawks.

"Certainly, we'll be trying for four straight but four out of seven will suit me," said Blake.

Jean Beliveau, who put the Canadiens ahead at 39 seconds with an unassisted goal, said, "The important thing is to win this series and the fourth game."

The West Division final resumes Thursday night at St. Louis. The best-of-7 series between St. Louis and St. Paul-Minneapolis is tied at 1-1.

Local Skaters Take 2 Firsts At Atwater

Members of the local roller skating club took two firsts and a third at competition at the Starlite Arena in Atwater Sunday.

Johnny Torma took a first in the junior boys figures category, Peggy Wiegand took first in the junior girls figures category and Aldine Wiegand took third in the ladies esquire figures.

The skaters will travel to Johnstown, Pa. this Sunday for a meet.

Art Heyman Doubtful For Pipers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Coach Vince Cazzetta will not commit himself on whether Art Heyman will start for the Pipers tonight in New Orleans.

Heyman has been hurting with a bum arch. And to top it off, he reported Tuesday he'd come down with tonsilitis.

The club had a special support made for Heyman's foot and he's received medical attention for the throat.

If Heyman can't make it for the game with the Bucs, Cazzetta will go with Leroy Wright in his place. Wright doesn't move the ball like Heyman, but he's been doing fine work around the boards.

Tonight's game at New Orleans is the third in the best-of-seven series for the American Basketball Association title.

Overcomes Cut Hand

Sigel 'Player To Watch' In North-South Amateur

By KEN ALYTA
Associated Press Sports Writer

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Jay Sigel, whose golfing future was threatened four years ago by a severely cut left hand, was the newest "player to watch" as the North and South Amateur tournament moved into its fourth round today.

The 24-year-old former Wake Forest University player from Narberth, Pa., vaulted into the spotlight with a 19 hole upset of defending champion Bill Campbell in Tuesday's play.

Today, Sigel was paired against Jerry Courville of South Norwalk, Conn., winner of New York's Metropolitan Open last year.

Sigel received severe nerve and tendon injuries when he accidentally pushed his left hand through a glass door in the summer of 1964. He has little feeling in the hand and it presents problems with putts, particularly in cold weather.

When he and Campbell, the four-time North and South champion from Huntington, W. Va., began their match Tuesday the temperature was a chilly 50 degrees and skies were cloudy after a morning shower.

Sigel shot 76, four over par for the 7,000-yard No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club.

Along with him in the top quarter of the draw as play resumed today were two North Carolina threats, Bill Harvey of Greensboro and Pat Foy Brady of Reidsville.

Ironmen To Remain In League

WHEELING (AP) — The Wheeling Ironmen reversed their previous decision Tuesday and decided to remain in the Continental Football League for another season.

The team's board of directors had voted unanimously two weeks ago to declare bankruptcy and relinquish the city's CFL franchise.

Club President Mike Valan said he attended a meeting of league representatives at Omaha, Nebr. last weekend and that he "was pleased with the developments" there.

Valan did not spell out what the developments were but the session was held to elect league officers and discuss divisional alignments.

Valan said the club does not have the $60,000 it needs to operate next season but that a fund-raising drive is being conducted.

Gonzales Picks Pro In Tennis

BOURNEMOUTH, England (AP) — Pancho Gonzales says one of the six touring professionals of the American Tennis League is certain to win this year's open Wimbledon.

"Most players take a month to work up to a peak before Wimbledon," the 40-year-old Los Angeles player said.

"These of us in the professional troupe are always within one week of our peak. Playing each other regularly we keep our game sharp the whole time."

Gonzales has coasted through to the second round of the British Hard Courts Championships —the world's first open event. So have the other five pros who are managed by American promoter George MacCall—Australia's Rod Laver, Ken Rosewall, Roy Emerson, and Fred Stolle and Spain's Andres Gimeno.

Laver is the favorite to win the first prize of $2,400.

British Bill Looms As Law Banning Jobs, Housing Bias

By LAWRENCE MALKIN
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — With the Conservative opposition badly split, the Labor government's bill to ban racial discrimination in jobs and housing appears certain to become law by summer.

The House of Commons gave the bill approval in principle Tuesday night, voting 313-209, and sent it to committee for additional study before it is presented for final passage.

Twenty-five Conservatives abstained rather than follow the party position and vote against the bill. It was another setback for the party leader, Edward Heath, already embroiled in the fight over the controversial speech Saturday by Enoch Powell.

Heath fired Powell from the Conservative shadow Cabinet, calling the speech "racialist in tone and liable to exacerbate racial tensions." Powell, a leader of the opposition party's right wing, had called for a ban on further colored immigration and payments to induce the one million nonwhites in Britain to return to their native lands. He called colored immigration "a match on gunpowder" and said "rivers of blood will eventually flow."

Powell listened from a back bench seat in Commons Tuesday as Conservative leaders rebuked him in their speeches. But workers in half a dozen plants walked off their jobs in token support of Powell, and more than 1,500 London longshoremen marched to the House of Commons to shout their agreement with him.

Along with criticism of Powell, his party's spokesman on race relations, Quintin Hogg said the party opposed the anti-discrimination bill because it felt it was too sweeping. He said the Tores want more exemptions for "the small man."

The government countered with an offer to set up an all-party committee to study the working of the legislation after it becomes law and recommend changes.

The bill would bar discrimination in jobs, housing, public places, businesses, schools and colleges. It also would outlaw discrimination in the granting of loans and the selling of insurance.

Beats Chicago 4-2

Montreal Wins Again, Bidding For Sweep

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens are on the threshold of pulling off what could become one of the greatest coups in the annals of hockey.

Their 4-2 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks gave them a 3-0 lead in the best-of-7 series following their four-game sweep over Boston. A victory Thursday night against the Hawks would end the current series and give them the East Division title.

After that, the Canadiens face the expansion winner—St. Louis or Minnesota—for the coveted Stanley Cup and they could defeat the expansion champions in four straight.

Chances are that such an opportunity for a 12-game sweep will never again be presented but the Canadiens aren't thinking about it. Well, not really.

"All we're doing is looking for another win here against Chicago," said Canadien Coach Toe Blake. "Listen, those Hawks are a pretty good club and you just don't go around talking about a four-game sweep against the Black Hawks.

"Certainly, we'll be trying for four straight but four out of seven will suit me," said Blake.

Jean Beliveau, who put the Canadiens ahead at 39 seconds with an unassisted goal, said, "The important thing is to win this series and the fourth game."

The West Division final resumes Thursday night at St. Louis. The best-of-7 series between St. Louis and St. Paul-Minneapolis is tied at 1-1.

Local Skaters Take 2 Firsts At Atwater

Members of the local roller skating club took two firsts and a third at competition at the Starlite Arena in Atwater Sunday.

Johnny Torma took a first in the junior boys figures category, Peggy Wiegand took first in the junior girls figures category and Aldine Wiegand took third in the ladies esquire figures.

The skaters will travel to Johnstown, Pa. this Sunday for a meet.

Art Heyman Doubtful For Pipers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Coach Vince Cazzetta will not commit himself on whether Art Heyman will start for the Pipers tonight in New Orleans.

Heyman has been hurting with a bum arch. And to top it off, he reported Tuesday he'd come down with tonsilitis.

The club had a special support made for Heyman's foot and he's received medical attention for the throat.

If Heyman can't make it for the game with the Bucs, Cazzetta will go with Leroy Wright in his place. Wright doesn't move the ball like Heyman, but he's been doing fine work around the boards.

Tonight's game at New Orleans is the third in the best-of-seven series for the American Basketball Association title.

2 Ohio Golfers Win In Amateur Tourney

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Bob Bourne of Lorain, Ohio, scored a second round victory Tuesday in the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament here. He upset Bobby Greenwood of Cookeville, Tenn., 2 up.

Another Ohioan, Roger McManus of Hartville, also advanced. He defeated John Ward of Fayetteville, N. Y., 1 up 19 holes.

Overcomes Cut Hand

Sigel 'Player To Watch' In North-South Amateur

By KEN ALYTA
Associated Press Sports Writer

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Jay Sigel, whose golfing future was threatened four years ago by a severely cut left hand, was the newest "player to watch" as the North and South Amateur tournament moved into its fourth round today.

The 24-year-old former Wake Forest University player from Narberth, Pa., vaulted into the spotlight with a 19 hole upset of defending champion Bill Campbell in Tuesday's play.

Today, Sigel was paired against Jerry Courville of South Norwalk, Conn., winner of New York's Metropolitan Open last year.

Sigel received severe nerve and tendon injuries when he accidentally pushed his left hand through a glass door in the summer of 1964. He has little feeling in the hand and it presents problems with putts, particularly in cold weather.

When he and Campbell, the four-time North and South champion from Huntington, W. Va., began their match Tuesday the temperature was a chilly 50 degrees and skies were cloudy after a morning shower.

Sigel shot 76, four over par for the 7,000-yard No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club.

Along with him in the top quarter of the draw as play resumed today were two North Carolina threats, Bill Harvey of Greensboro and Pat Foy Brady of Reidsville.

Ironmen To Remain In League

WHEELING (AP) — The Wheeling Ironmen reversed their previous decision Tuesday and decided to remain in the Continental Football League for another season.

The team's board of directors had voted unanimously two weeks ago to declare bankruptcy and relinquish the city's CFL franchise.

Club President Mike Valan said he attended a meeting of league representatives at Omaha, Nebr. last weekend and that he "was pleased with the developments" there.

Valan did not spell out what the developments were but the session was held to elect league officers and discuss divisional alignments.

Valan said the club does not have the $60,000 it needs to operate next season but that a fund-raising drive is being conducted.

Gonzales Picks Pro In Tennis

BOURNEMOUTH, England (AP) — Pancho Gonzales says one of the six touring professionals of the American Tennis League is certain to win this year's open Wimbledon.

"These of us in the professional troupe are always within one week of our peak. Playing each other regularly we keep our game sharp the whole time."

Gonzales has coasted through to the second round of the British Hard Courts Championships —the world's first open event. So have the other five pros who are managed by American promoter George MacCall—Australia's Rod Laver, Ken Rosewall, Roy Emerson, and Fred Stolle and Spain's Andres Gimeno.

Laver is the favorite to win the first prize of $2,400.

British Bill Looms As Law Banning Jobs, Housing Bias

By LAWRENCE MALKIN
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — With the Conservative opposition badly split, the Labor government's bill to ban racial discrimination in jobs and housing appears certain to become law by summer.

The House of Commons gave the bill approval in principle Tuesday night, voting 313-209, and sent it to committee for additional study before it is presented for final passage.

Twenty-five Conservatives abstained rather than follow the party position and vote against the bill. It was another setback for the party leader, Edward Heath, already embroiled in the fight over the controversial speech Saturday by Enoch Powell.

Heath fired Powell from the Conservative shadow Cabinet, calling the speech "racialist in tone and liable to exacerbate racial tensions." Powell, a leader of the opposition party's right wing, had called for a ban on further colored immigration and payments to induce the one million nonwhites in Britain to return to their native lands. He called colored immigration "a match on gunpowder" and said "rivers of blood will eventually flow."

Powell listened from a back bench seat in Commons Tuesday as Conservative leaders rebuked him in their speeches. But workers in half a dozen plants walked off their jobs in token support of Powell, and more than 1,500 London longshoremen marched to the House of Commons to shout their agreement with him.

Along with criticism of Powell, his party's spokesman on race relations, Quintin Hogg said the party opposed the anti-discrimination bill because it felt it was too sweeping. He said the Tores want more exemptions for "the small man."

The government countered with an offer to set up an all-party committee to study the working of the legislation after it becomes law and recommend changes.

The bill would bar discrimination in jobs, housing, public places, businesses, schools and colleges. It also would outlaw discrimination in the granting of loans and the selling of insurance.

ed all available ambulances be rushed to the scene.

Two of those hurt were reportedly employes of Townsend and Bottum, the rest were workers of the Babcock & Wilcox Corp., another contractor at the site.

Authorities said they were unable immediately to judge the extent of structural damage. Work on the project halted.

Some 1,500 men are employed on the construction program at the site which is adjacent to the power plant along the Ohio River across Route 7 from the Stratton super dam.

The Wellsville police cruiser was damaged en route to the site when it was struck in the rear by a 1963 sedan whose driver was attempting to make a turn on Route 7 near Yellow Creek. No one was injured, officers indicated, but the investigation was not complete.

There was no visible evidence of the explosion from outside the building, but a large hole was ripped in the boiler as a result. There seemed to be no other damage to the boiler, however, witnesses said.

Hancock

lieve in "harassment of certain businesses for personal gain," and said and he would strive "to obtain dedicated, honest deputies."

—:—

WRIGHT — stressed the fact that the county "needs help," including "more deputies — a lot more."

He noted that there are "good ones (men) in office from the city all the way up," but more deputies are needed. He said he is concerned with "you people, your kids" and the problems of the county residents which could be handled by the sheriff's office.

MILLER charged that this "end" of Hancock County is virtually "forgotten," but indicated that it would not lack law enforcement if he is elected.

He pointed out it is difficult to find good deputies and said the sheriff's office would remain virtually the same in basic operation, but assured there would be more enforcement relative to illegal gambling and the teen drinking problem.

EVANS — Beginning his fourth year as county commissioner and his second as the court's president, Evans said, "If elected, I will do everything in my power to see that the taxpayers receive one dollar's value for each tax dollar spent. If I can accomplish this, I would feel that I had served you well."

He pointed out that the tax levy for residents has been reduced while he has served as commissioner and that he will "stand on my (sic) record." He reminded the audience of the new jail for the county now under construction.

He pledged to have a police cruiser in the Grant District at all times, except in case of emergency elsewhere. He said he feels there's a gross lack of communication between teens and their parents, local and state governments and the federal administration. He said he would strive to change the avenues of communications between the citizenery and the sheriff's office, accepting assistance from all other law enforcement agencies and the local citizen band radio group.

MOORE, serving his second consecutive term as councilman of the Third Ward, also stressed the problem of juvenile delinquency in the county. He said another major problem is speeding on the highways.

He and Miller agreed that though gambling could not be "cut out" completely, it can be controlled. He thinks that part of the answer would be more deputies and "a lot more patrolling all over."

A letter was read by Rev. Prince from Frank A. Rocchio, Weirton Democrat who was unable to attend the meeting because of a previous engagement. Rev. Prince said no replies had been received from the other three candidates.

They are Lou Smoleski and Edward Malinowski, both Democrats, and Robert Sowers, Republican, all of Weirton.

DURING THE question - and-answer period, the traffic problem created by the crowds at the Waterford Park race track and the gambling and drinking along the "Strip" received major attention.

Several Newell mothers of children who must cross the roadway during the heavy traffic period to and from the track, asked the candidates what they would do about slowing traffic.

The answers varied from "the traffic must be moved through as quickly as possible;" "straightening out the track;" and "that cars violating regulations be stopped and fined. The candidates were in general agreement that the traffic problem must be solved so that the communities "are not catering to the race track, but living with it."

During the meeting several other county and Chester city candidates were introduced.

The Newell Ministerial Association will sponsor a similar meeting Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the fire hall there.

about going back to college and possibly obtaining a position in a city near a college to allow him to complete his work.

Lynch said this morning if he returns to school he will work for his Ph. D. in school administration, with an eye toward a superintendency somewhere.

Lynch, a native of Tiffin, received his B. S. degree in education in December 1962 from Ohio State University and his master's degree from Kent State in 1966.

After receiving his bachelor's degree, he taught speech at Washington High School in Massillon from January 1963 until September 1965, when he was named assistant principal at a junior high school there. He held that post until 1966 when he came to East Liverpool as the high school's top administrator.

"I came here when I was 26," Lynch declared, "probably one of the youngest, if not the youngest, principal in the state. I am now 28."

He is president of the local school administrators' association, a member of the Ohio and National Education Associations, the Ohio and National Associations of Secondary School Principals, Ohio Speech Association and National School Public Relations Association.

He is a member of the Kiwanis Club and chairman of its vocational guidance committee.

He is married. He and his wife have two children.

town streetlighting, the sewage disposal plant and a modernized school system.

"He has been expert counsel on sewage disposal systems, has saved the city money in connection with investment of bonds, has legally counselled on proper procedure for the city income tax and certainly must have saved East Liverpool many, many dollars in citizens' claims," Boyce said.

"In a community that lacks the tax support of industry and is pretty much dependent on residential tax income, all of these projects were more difficult to consummate than they would be in a normal community," Boyce said. "However, the growth and improvements continued, perhaps not as fast as many people wished, but at least they were completed. These are intangible contributions, but those who have the responsibility of running our city have assured me that they feel they were blessed with Joe's counsel.

"Our honored guests this evening are modest, humble people who have never made a contribution for publicity, but only to help others."

BOYCE praised Thompson for his donations of real estate that made it possible for the city to expand its off - street parking lots on E. 4th St. and W. 6th St. He pointed out that Thompson also donated funds for demolition of the Ceramic Theater when the city acquired the property for use as a parking lot.

He hailed Thompson as "a generous donor to many civic and charitable projects" and pointed out he has been actively interested in industrial and commercial development of the East Liverpool area.

A long - time member of the Chamber of Commerce, Thompson serves on the board of trustees of the Community Improvement Corp. He has been active in the work of the downtown improvement committee, particularly its off - street parking and improved streetlighting projects.

Kapp, in presenting the plaque to Cooper, asserted he would "be an all - star on any team." It was the first time in East Liverpool's history that an elected public official ever was honored at a testimonial in which the guests represented virtually every walk of life, Kapp added.

"We all owe a debt of gratitude to this man for 16 years of integrity, conscientious hard work and devotion to the good of the city," Kapp said.

Responding, Cooper termed the testimonial "a high point in my life."

"East Liverpool has been moving ahead and I am glad that I was part of it," Cooper said. He thanked Miss Helen Bibbee, his secretary, and Richard Clark, who was assistant solicitor for 10 years.

Finley introduced guests, including Mrs. Lee Cooper and Mrs. Mary Cooper, mother and wife, respectively, of the honored guest; Don Eckert, newly-appointed planning coordinator, Atty. Earl Roe of Cleveland, director of Citizens for Total Action, and Mrs. Nessie Dunlop.

The dinner committee was comprised of Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, Councilman Donal I. Burcham and Council President Norman Bucher.

Myers bid $3,525 for the bodies. Other firms bidding were Ruble Agency of Powhatan, $3,536, (Superior); Lewis Chevrolet, $3,355, (Thomas Body), and Wayne Body of Pittsburgh, $3,314.

"In business, as most of it is constituted today, a man becomes valuable only as he recognizes the relation of his work to that of all his associates. It is the cumulative effort that counts." —W Alton Jones

These service employes at Crucible's Midland division know the value of their work to the thousands of others employed there. The tie-tamping machine that is their responsibility tamps ballast under railroad ties, to raise and level track. It is essential to the maintenance of the 33-mile in-plant railway system which moves raw materials, supplies, and in-process steel, insuring smooth efficient operations. Success for Midland division, as for any business, depends on teamwork—the cumulative effort of thousands of individuals, doing their job well, appreciative of its value to the whole.

Two of those hurt were reportedly employes of Townsend and Bottum, the rest were workers of the Babcock & Wilcox Corp., another contractor at the site.

Authorities said they were unable immediately to judge the extent of structural damage. Work on the project halted.

Some 1,500 men are employed on the construction program at the site which is adjacent to the power plant along the Ohio River across Route 7 from the Stratton super dam.

The Wellsville police cruiser was damaged en route to the site when it was struck in the rear by a 1963 sedan whose driver was attempting to make a turn on Route 7 near Yellow Creek. No one was injured, officers indicated, but the investigation was not complete.

There was no visible evidence of the explosion from outside the building, but a large hole was ripped in the boiler as a result. There seemed to be no other damage to the boiler, however, witnesses said.

lieve in "harassment of certain businesses for personal gain," and said and he would strive "to obtain dedicated, honest deputies."

WRIGHT — stressed the fact that the county "needs help," including "more deputies — a lot more."

He noted that there are "good ones (men) in office from the city all the way up," but more deputies are needed. He said he is concerned with "you people, your kids" and the problems of the county residents which could be handled by the sheriff's office.

MILLER charged that this "end" of Hancock County is virtually "forgotten," but indicated that it would not lack law enforcement if he is elected.

He pointed out it is difficult to find good deputies and said the sheriff's office would remain virtually the same in basic operation, but assured there would be more enforcement relative to illegal gambling and the teen drinking problem.

EVANS — Beginning his fourth year as county commissioner and his second as the court's president, Evans said, "If elected, I will do everything in my power to see that the taxpayers receive one dollar's value for each tax dollar spent. If I can accomplish this, I would feel that I had served you well."

He pointed out that the tax levy for residents has been reduced while he has served as commissioner and that he will "stand on my (sic) record." He reminded the audience of the new jail for the county now under construction.

He pledged to have a police cruiser in the Grant District at all times, except in case of emergency elsewhere. He said he feels there's a gross lack of communication between teens and their parents, local and state governments and the federal administration. He said he would strive to change the avenues of communications between the citizenery and the sheriff's office, accepting assistance from all other law enforcement agencies and the local citizen band radio group.

MOORE, serving his second consecutive term as councilman of the Third Ward, also stressed the problem of juvenile delinquency in the county. He said another major problem is speeding on the highways.

He and Miller agreed that though gambling could not be "cut out" completely, it can be controlled. He thinks that part of the answer would be more deputies and "a lot more patrolling all over."

A letter was read by Rev. Prince from Frank A. Rocchio, Weirton Democrat who was unable to attend the meeting because of a previous engagement. Rev. Prince said no replies had been received from the other three candidates.

They are Lou Smoleski and Edward Malinowski, both Democrats, and Robert Sowers, Republican, all of Weirton.

DURING THE question - and-answer period, the traffic problem created by the crowds at the Waterford Park race track and the gambling and drinking along the "Strip" received major attention.

Several Newell mothers of children who must cross the roadway during the heavy traffic period to and from the track, asked the candidates what they would do about slowing traffic.

The answers varied from "the traffic must be moved through as quickly as possible;" "straightening out the track;" and "that cars violating regulations be stopped and fined. The candidates were in general agreement that the traffic problem must be solved so that the communities "are not catering to the race track, but living with it."

During the meeting several other county and Chester city candidates were introduced.

The Newell Ministerial Association will sponsor a similar meeting Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the fire hall there.

Group Discusses New Reservoir

The proposed Green Township reservoir with dam and spillway at Millville, east of Salem, would be six miles long, one mile wide and contain 3,000 acres of water.

Approximately 100 persons from Mahoning and Columbiana counties attended a discussion of the height-of-land impoundment Tuesday afternoon at the Courthouse in Youngstown.

SINCE THE dam would be on the middle fork of Little Beaver Creek, the reservoir would have an effect on the industrial, residential and recreational development of the Salem - Leetonia area, Lisbon and Beaver Creek State Park in southeastern Columbiana County.

Mahoning County is interested in the reservoir as a source for more water. Although the stream flows southward into Columbiana County, engineers say a dam of sufficient height—just north of the Columbiana-Mahoning County line — would raise the pool level above the summit of the land and tip the water by gravity flow into Meander Creek which flows into Meander Reservoir and eventually into the Mahoning River.

A 1960 report of the Ohio Division of Water said: "At a pool elevation of 1,050 feet, six billion gallons of storage in the upper 15 feet of the reservoir could be released by gravity into Meander Creek. This would add 14 million gallons daily to the supply from Meander Reservoir."

PROPONENTS say other benefits of the impoundment would be recreation and, to a limited degree, flood control.

J. L. Morrissey, Columbiana County regional planning director, said Columbiana County interests want to make certain the stream flow will not be impeded so as to jeopardize the development of this county.

Morrissey, James Ryan, director of the Mahoning County Planning Commission; County Engineers John Ursu and Sam Gould of Columbiana and Mahoning counties, respectively, and possibly commissioners of both counties, will meet soon and prepare a preliminary report to interested parties and the Army Corps of Engineers.

The Ohio Highway Department is interested in the proposed reservoir because of Route 62, which crosses the basin and Route 14, the proposed realignment of which would be near the dam, Morrissey said.

Columbiana County residents present were Howard Firestone, O. A. Naragon and George Rogers, all of Salem; George Ursu, Perry Township trustee; engineer Ursu; County Commissioners James Boyd of East Liverpool and R. Max Gard of Lisbon and William Robinson, Lisbon councilman.

Although Benjamin Franklin was this country's first high-level diplomatic representative abroad, he was not our first ambassador. Franklin was sent to France in September, 1778, as minister plenipotentiary.

Two Buses, Car Figure In Crash

Several Western Beaver High School students received minor cuts and bruises in a bus-car collision Wednesday afternoon on Engle Rd., Industry Borough.

Extensive damage resulted to the two buses and an auto in the mishap at 3:55 p. m. near St. Paul Cemetery.

Police said a bus operated by Charles Chaffee, 37, of Smiths Ferry rammed the rear of another operated by Clark Reed, 63, of Industry RD 2. Reed had halted behind a car operated by Chester Bonner, 37, of 132 Birch St., Beaver.

The students were treated by the school nurse. None was hurt seriously. Assistant Police Chief Marko Ratkovich was in charge of the investigation.

Doesn't Know If Reds Are Serious

LBJ Says U.S. In Touch With Hanoi On Talk Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has told diplomats the United States is in frequent touch with North Vietnam on the subject of choosing the site for a Vietnam peace talk.

Johnson said he and his advisers do not know whether the North Vietnamese leadership is seriously interested in solving the site problem or whether it has some other purpose in mind. Some officials have suggested Hanoi may be mainly making propaganda.

Johnson discussed the situation as he sees it in an informal talk with diplomats and others at a White House reception Tuesday night. Various versions of what he said were reported.

"We are in contact with them," he was quoted as having said. "We spoke to them yesterday and today, and we will be in contact with them tomorrow. We don't know whether it's a ploy or not."

Diplomatic authorities confirmed today the sense of what Johnson was saying, without stating his views in precise and quotable language.

The President's points, they said, are that the U.S. government is working persistently to try to solve the site problem. Johnson and his advisers do not know whether the North Vietnamese are serious about solving it, but they will find out.

Diplomatic contacts are reported to have occurred in Vientiane, Laos, where U.S. Ambassador William Sullivan has been in direct touch with North Vietnamese Ambassador Le Van Hien repeatedly since early this month.

The exchange began after Johnson limited the bombing of North Vietnam on March 31 and called for talks on ending the war.

The Washington Post, in its account, quoted Johnson as saying:

"We talked today and we talked yesterday. There are some who think that if they were serious they wouldn't have suggested Warsaw as a site for the initial peace talks.

The Post, in reporting Johnson said he wasn't positive whether North Vietnam wanted talks, said the President then shrugged "as if he didn't know whether or not to agree."

The North Vietnamese Communist Party newspaper Nhan Dan meanwhile, accused the United States Tuesday of "perfidious maneuvers" and said the Vietnamese people "demand that the U.S. government stop delaying preliminary contacts and accept either Phnom Penh or Warsaw as the venue."

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant expressed confidence in Paris that preliminary U.S.-North Vietnamese talks would get under way, "perhaps even this week."

Canada's New Premier Calls June Election

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada's swinging new prime minister, Pierre Elliott Trudeau, betting that his charisma will win his Liberal party a majority, has called a general election after four days in office.

Parliament returned from a 25-day recess Tuesday to hear Trudeau tell it, it was dissolved and elections would be held June 25. The House of Commons responded with prolonged applause.

Trudeau told newsmen there is an atmosphere of uncertainty in Canada that an early election would dispel. He said he and his Liberal party are seeking the support of the people for a "comprehensive program of reform."

The Liberals have been the largest party in Commons since they won the April, 1963, general election, but they have never had a majority and have been forced to depend on the support of the smaller parties. At dissolution, the Liberals held 128 of the 265 seats in Commons.

Trudeau, a dynamic 48-year-old bachelor whose appeal to younger voters has been compared to the late President Kennedy's, apparently hopes to capitalize on the considerable publicity he has generated since the Liberals chose him to succeed Lester B. Pearson on April 6. By law he did not have to call an election until 1970.

The District of Columbia is a short distance below the Mason and Dixon Line.

F111s Not Grounded, U.S. Spokesman Says

SAIGON (AP) — No F111s flew against North Vietnam Tuesday, but a U.S. military spokesman in Saigon implied tonight that the $6-million, swing-wing fighter-bomber has not been grounded again after its third crash in a month.

"There has been no change in the status of the F111," said the spokesman after a day of rumors and inquiries. He would not elaborate.

In Washington, the Pentagon refused to comment and said any information would have to come from Saigon.

There was no indication whether any F111s were used in the raids on North Vietnam today. Normally reports on the days air operations would not be given until Thursday.

The third F111 lost on Vietnam duty disappeared Monday night, and North Vietnam claimed today its forces had shot down the plane over Quang Binh, the province just north of the demilitarized zone. It said nothing about the two crewmen.

The U.S. Command said the plane was believed to have crashed in Thailand, but it gave no further information on the plane or the fate of the crew.

The North Vietnamese also claimed to have shot down the F111s which were lost March 28 and March 30. U.S. officers believe the first plane crashed in a remote area of Thailand or Laos, and the wreckage of the second was found in northern Thailand. Its crash was attributed to a capsule of sealing material, mistakenly left by mechanics, that became lodged in the flight controls. The two crew members bailed out and were rescued.

Six F111s arrived at Ta Khli air base in Thailand March 17 and went into combat March 25. They were grounded for 11 days after the crash March 30 and have flown combat missions on about 17 days in all. Two additional F111s were brought in to replace the first two losses.

Other Air Force, Navy and Marine Corp planes were out in force Tuesday to continue bombing highways, barges, gun positions and other targets in the section of North Vietnam left open to air raids by President Johnson's curtailment orders.

U.S. pilots flew 111 missions south of the 19th parallel—44 less than the day before—with the deepest penetration a strike against a railroad spur 168 miles north of the demilitarized zone. The panhandle area was covered by clouds which prevented damage assessments.

In South Vietnam, the B52s kept up their round-the-clock campaign against the A Shau Valley, an enemy stronghold for two years where intelligence reports indicate preparations may be under way for another big drive.

Comparatively little ground activity was reported.

Group Discusses New Reservoir

The proposed Green Township reservoir with dam and spillway at Millville, east of Salem, would be six miles long, one mile wide and contain 3,000 acres of water.

Approximately 100 persons from Mahoning and Columbiana counties attended a discussion of the height-of-land impoundment Tuesday afternoon at the Courthouse in Youngstown.

SINCE THE dam would be on the middle fork of Little Beaver Creek, the reservoir would have an effect on the industrial, residential and recreational development of the Salem - Leetonia area, Lisbon and Beaver Creek State Park in southeastern Columbiana County.

Mahoning County is interested in the reservoir as a source for more water. Although the stream flows southward into Columbiana County, engineers say a dam of sufficient height—just north of the Columbiana-Mahoning County line — would raise the pool level above the summit of the land and tip the water by gravity flow into Meander Creek which flows into Meander Reservoir and eventually into the Mahoning River.

A 1960 report of the Ohio Division of Water said: "At a pool elevation of 1,050 feet, six billion gallons of storage in the upper 15 feet of the reservoir could be released by gravity into Meander Creek. This would add 14 million gallons daily to the supply from Meander Reservoir."

PROPONENTS say other benefits of the impoundment would be recreation and, to a limited degree, flood control.

J. L. Morrissey, Columbiana County regional planning director, said Columbiana County interests want to make certain the stream flow will not be impeded so as to jeopardize the development of this county.

Morrissey, James Ryan, director of the Mahoning County Planning Commission; County Engineers John Ursu and Sam Gould of Columbiana and Mahoning counties, respectively, and possibly commissioners of both counties, will meet soon and prepare a preliminary report to interested parties and the Army Corps of Engineers.

The Ohio Highway Department is interested in the proposed reservoir because of Route 62, which crosses the basin and Route 14, the proposed realignment of which would be near the dam, Morrissey said.

Columbiana County residents present were Howard Firestone, O. A. Naragon and George Rogers, all of Salem; George Ursu, Perry Township trustee; engineer Ursu; County Commissioners James Boyd of East Liverpool and R. Max Gard of Lisbon and William Robinson, Lisbon councilman.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Although Benjamin Franklin was this country's first high-level diplomatic representative abroad, he was not our first ambassador. That title was first given, according to State Department records, to Thomas Francis Bayard, who was sent to Great Britain in March 1893 as ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary. Franklin was sent to France in September, 1778, as minister plenipotentiary.

Two Buses, Car Figure In Crash

Several Western Beaver High School students received minor cuts and bruises in a bus-car collision Wednesday afternoon on Engle Rd., Industry Borough.

Extensive damage resulted to the two buses and an auto in the mishap at 3:55 p. m. near St. Paul Cemetery.

Police said a bus operated by Charles Chaffee, 37, of Smiths Ferry rammed the rear of another operated by Clark Reed, 68, of Industry RD 2. Reed had halted behind a car operated by Chester Bonner, 37, of 132 Birch St., Beaver.

The students were treated by the school nurse. None was hurt seriously. Assistant Police Chief Marko Ratkovich was in charge of the investigation.

Doesn't Know If Reds Are Serious

LBJ Says U.S. In Touch With Hanoi On Talk Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has told diplomats the United States is in frequent touch with North Vietnam on the subject of choosing the site for a Vietnam peace talk.

Johnson said he and his advisers do not know whether the North Vietnamese leadership is seriously interested in solving the site problem or whether it has some other purpose in mind. Some officials have suggested Hanoi may be mainly making propaganda.

Johnson discussed the situation as he sees it in an informal talk with diplomats and others at a White House reception Tuesday night. Various versions of what he said were reported.

"We are in contact with them," he was quoted as having said. "We spoke to them yesterday and today, and we will be in contact with them tomorrow. We don't know whether it's a ploy or not."

Diplomatic authorities confirmed today the sense of what Johnson was saying, without stating his views in precise and quotable language.

The President's points, they said, are that the U.S. government is working persistently to try to solve the site problem. Johnson and his advisers do not know whether the North Vietnamese are serious about solving it, but they will find out.

Diplomatic contacts are reported to have occurred in Vientiane, Laos, where U.S. Ambassador William Sullivan has been in direct touch with North Vietnamese Ambassador Le Van Hien repeatedly since early this month.

The exchange began after Johnson limited the bombing of North Vietnam on March 31 and called for talks on ending the war.

The Washington Post, in its account, quoted Johnson as saying:

"We talked today and we talked yesterday. There are some who think that if they were serious they wouldn't have suggested Warsaw as a site for the initial peace talks.

The Post, in reporting Johnson said he wasn't positive whether North Vietnam wanted talks, said the President then shrugged "as if he didn't know whether or not to agree."

The North Vietnamese Communist Party newspaper Nhan Dan meanwhile, accused the United States Tuesday of "perfidious maneuvers" and said the Vietnamese people "demand that the U.S. government stop delaying preliminary contacts and accept either Phnom Penh or Warsaw as the venue."

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant expressed confidence in Paris that preliminary U.S.-North Vietnamese talks would get under way, "perhaps even this week."

ANN LANDERS

Learning By Last Laugh

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: The letter about the woman with the terrible laugh brought back some 40-year-old memories. I, too, had a laugh that was out of the ordinary, but I never knew it until I was tipped off — by a bird.

Several years ago my husband and I went to the coast to visit my brother and sister-in-law. The first morning we were there I was awakened by the ear-splitting racket of their parrot. He kept screeching, "Ha ha ha ha he he he ho hee hee ho heee. . . ." I immediately went to my sister-in-law and asked what in the world the screeching was all about.

"Ohe," she replied, in her usual low-key manner, "Polly is imitating your laugh." I said, "Do I sound like that?" She answered "Yes. It's a perfect imitation."

I couldn't believe it at first, but after a while I had to admit it was true. You can be sure I toned down my laugh considerably after that.

Both my brother and the parrot are gone now, but I recall the incident whenever I hear an unusual laugh and I say to myself, "That person should go visit someone who has a parrot." — FORMER SCREECHER.

-:-

Dear Former: Blessings on Polly. She did you a great favor. But you still haven't had the last laugh — read on:

Laughing Matter

Dear Ann: I recently read in your column the letter from the woman who complained because her mother-in-law had a laugh like a rooster. The daughter-in-law found this frightfully embarrassing, expecially when they went to the movies.

If she'll send me her mother-in-law I'll send her mine. My husband's mother has not cracked a smile in the 24 years I've known her. I've often thought it very odd that the woman has not heard anything funny since I came into the family.

Please print my letter, Ann, and let's hope the complaining lady sees it. That rooster racket should be music to her ears. — GRIMSVILLE

-:-

Dear Grim: Thank you — and cockadoodledoo.

Marriage Contract

Dear Ann: I'm 54 and going with a man 69 years of age. We plan to marry this summer. One thing is holding us up. He wants me to sign a prenuptial agreement which leaves 75 per cent of all his holdings to his three children if he dies before I do.

I do not think this is fair, especially since I have not asked him to sign any agreement. I have three children also. I'm willing to leave everything I have to him.

If I give this man several years of happiness I think I'm entitled to whatever he has. After all, his children are all married and they don't need anything. What is your opinion? — NOT GREEDY, JUST PRACTICAL.

Dear N.G.: Your offer to leave everything to your husband if you should predecease him is a noble gesture, but an empty one. According to the insurance actuaries, you have another 19 years to go and I'm sorry I can't say the same for him.

State laws vary. I urge you to see a lawyer and learn the facts about a child's legal share of a parent's estate. What concerns me, however, is that you say nothing about your feeling for the man, you speak only of the financial problem.

The whole thing smells like last week's fish.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

In Report Of Examiner

County And Beaver Local Records Called Well Kept

LISBON — James L. McBride, superintendent of Columbiana County schools, also serves, by law, in the unsalaried position of clerk of the County Board of Education.

His "pay" was a recent good report from state examiner D. Pauline Church of Canfield, whose audit covered the county office here from May 1, 1964, to Oct. 31, 1967.

The clerk's records "were kept in excellent form," the examiner noted.

MISS CHURCH was also the examiner for the audit of Beaver Local School District for the period May 16, 1964, to June 30, 1967.

Both reports are available for public inspection at the offices of the county auditor and prosecuting attorney in the Courthouse.

Miss Church said the county board minutes were well written and complete and each transaction of the board was carefully recorded. She noted that no purchase orders were used by the office and advised the clerk they should be. McBride said purchase orders are now being used.

Miss Church's report on Beaver Local contains 21 pages. The district has six buildings in use —the high school and elementary school on Route 7 at Williamsport, and elementary buildings at Calcutta, Elkton, Rogers and West Point. There are playgrounds at each school and a district bus garage.

As rolling stock, the district had 33 buses, including 10 purchased during the audit period, and two pickup trucks. Thirty-one of the buses were used regularly and two served as spares.

ALL RECORDS and accounts of the district were kept in neat and legible form, Miss Church said.

Various funds were overdrawn during the audit period, the examiner reported. These were the uniform school supply fund, the Title II fund and the Title III fund. Deficits ranged from $291 to $3,030. Miss Church said Ohio statutes make no provision for deficit spending.

She said contracts awarded to certain teachers and supervisors on several occasions provided for a lump sum travel allowance in addition to the stated salary. She cited an opinion of the attorney general (1957) that travel expenses of school officers and employes may be paid a flat rate based on average monthly expenses, but itemized statements are required. If the actual expenses do not equal the flat sum authorized, then only actual expenses may be paid, she explained.

The records showed that the Board of Education on June 1, 1964, authorized the clerk to establish a uniform school supply fund and to transfer $3,700 from the general fund into it. This transfer was not made during the audit period, Miss Church said. The clerk was instructed to transfer the money, in compliance with the board's former action, to eliminate the deficit balance of that fund.

Six lunchrooms, one in each building, were operated by the board. The district participated in the federal subsidy fund.

EXAMINATION of the payroll ledger revealed that 15 days sick leave a year (up to 90 days) were allowed for certified employes, but bus drivers and lunchroom employes received 11¼ days per year.

Miss Church called the clerk's attention to an opinion of the attorney general (1967) holding that non-teaching employes under contract are full-time employes and entitled to 15 days sick leave a year.

Beaver Local, largest school district areawise in the county, had a faculty of 101 during the audit and employed 58 non-certified personnel.

The district's bonded indebtedness as of June 30, 1967, was $891,000, compared with $877,000 at the beginning of the audit.

2 Cars Damaged By Flames Here

Two autos were damaged by fire Tuesday afternoon and early today, city firemen report.

There was extensive damage to the 1966 two-door sedan on the River Rd. about 12:57 this morning. The car, owned by Woodrow W. Pate of 610 6th St., Chester, was damaged heavily in the dashboard and windshield area.

Firemen said the blaze originated in the wiring under the dashboard. The squad truck and two men from Central station were on the scene 37 minutes using booster lines to quell the flames.

Early Tuesday afternoon, a backfire in a parked car caused damage when the wiring caught fire.

The 1957 sedan of Lois Rice of 1014 Avondale St. was damaged slightly in the wiring, but otherwise was unharmed.

Two men with a pumper from the North Side station answered the alarm, using a booster line. The department was on the scene 10 minutes.

Board Hires Instructors At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Three teachers were hired by the board of education Monday night.

They are David Guy of 203 S. Market St., high school English, at $5,800; Mrs. Mary Holman of 101 S. Market St., elementary, at $5,000, and Miss Judith McCready of 500 N. Walnut St., elementary, at $4,300.

Guy, a graduate of Mt. Union College, is working on his master's degree. Mrs. Holman will be graduated this year from Youngstown State University and Miss McCready is in her third year at Kent State University.

The board authorized obtaining bids for renovation of a high school classroom for art instruction, a requirement under new state standards. No teacher has yet been employed.

The board also accepted an offer from the East Palestine Savings and Loan Association for providing a $2,515 scoreboard at the high school stadium if the school district will install and maintain it.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Use Stairs For Hem Job

DEAR HELOISE: An excellent way to mark a dress for hemming on someone not so agile, is to have that person stand at the head of some stairs. Then you sit on the next lower step.

So much easier than standing on a table.

Well, well, well, who would have THUNK IT? It's great. And you're a lollipop for writing us.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: Try this to keep your closets neat and the hangers from jamming together:

Cut cardboard wax paper and foil rolls into 1½"-widths and cover the sections with spray paint or adhesive-backed plastic. Then just place one between the hangers on your closet rod. (Remove the rod to slip them on.)

Heloise

Sure keeps everything neat and where it should be, and makes it easy to find just what you want without pushing and pulling all those clothes around.

A READER.

This is great if you store out-of-season clothes in an extra closet. Sure saves on pressing bills, too. You are a real friend.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: When our boy was in Cub Scouts and I was a Den Mother, we took part in a "Penny Carnival."

One of the games was this:

On a sheet of plywood (heavy cardboard will do) we painted three large black cats with wide-open mouths. We then supplied bean bags to throw at the pictured cats. Those children whose bags plopped into the cats' mouth won a small prize.

This proved to be so popular at the "Penny Carnival", I later painted the same design on a large pasteboard box for my brother's children.

They were so well entertained with it that my sister-in-law used the idea to amuse the children at her neighborhood club meeting.

MRS. W. VANDERHOOF.

DEAR HELOISE: I just hate to part with my comfortable "baby doll" pajamas even when the top layer of thin nylon has frayed and fallen apart.

So now I carefully cut off the top layer of net or nylon leaving the heavier "slip" underneath intact with the fancy yoke.

If the top is plain, pin a pretty ribbon or cloth flower to the neckline.

Looks like a new set and makes me feel a little nicer wearing it, too.

DIANE LUGON.

DEAR HELOISE: My beautiful old Bible was terribly dog-eared.

So I flattened the corners out, sprayed on a little starch and pressed them flat with a medium iron (nylon setting).

Now my Bible looks nice again. I can hardly believe it.

This can be done with any well-read and worn book.

DIXIE.

DEAR HELOISE: You know these net bags that we get grapes, some fruits and stuff in?

Well, not long ago, I put a green one over my silver bowl and it looks ever so pretty. Certainly gives it an interesting appearance.

MRS. JACK TACKETT.

And is quite a conversation piece to boot, I'll bet.

HELOISE.

Three More Ohioans Killed In Viet War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two soldiers and a Marine are the latest Ohio servicemen reported killed in the Vietnam war.

The Defense Department listed them as Army Pfc. Larry A. Widener, Youngstown, whose status changed from missing to dead of hostile causes; Army Pfc. Curtis R. Riley, Batavia, and Marine Sgt. Leo F. Malone, husband of MarLou Malone, 670 S. Washington St., Van Wert.

Clifford Decision Due On Ravenna Arsenal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense Secretary Clark Clifford may decide within a week whether to reopen the Ravenna, Ohio, Arsenal for production of ammunition for the Vietnam war, Rep. J. William Stanton, R-Ohio, says.

He told a reporter his information came from private sources and said he knew nothing official about the matter.

May Become Routine

'Take A Letter, Jack'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Take a letter, Jack."

That order may become routine in tomorrow's business office. For, reversing a trend of more than half a century, men are beginning to challenge women for top-paying secretarial jobs in industry.

"Of the nation's 2½ to 3 million secretaries and typists, about 98 per cent are women," said Donald Blanchard, Royal Typewriter Company executive. "But there is no doubt that more and more men are entering the field."

The prospect of male competition so far hasn't stirred panic in the bosoms of the nation's Girl Fridays, who are currently celebrating National Secretaries Week. The all-gal National Secretaries Association even has generousy amended its by-laws to admit men to membership.

The 1960 U.S. census listed only 41,752 male secretaries and 11,752 male stenographers. That's a mere dribble. But industry sources agree the number has increased steadily since then.

Why would a man want to become a secretary? A better question is—why not?

The secretarial "profession" is being upgraded all the time. It provides indoor work in pleasant surroundings, has many fringe benefits, and the pay is good—from $5,000 to $10,000 a year, or even more. Many young men see the jobs as springboards to executive posts.

And there are plenty of openings. It is expected that industry will be able to absorb 200,000 more secretaries annually for the next decade.

There is plenty of precedent for the aspiring male secretary who dreams of success.

Did you know that President Woodrow Wilson, Henry Ford, and John D. Rockefeller were expert stenographers? The late Billy Rose, multimillionaire showman, started as a stenographer for financier Bernard Baruch and won national contests for his speed at shorthand. Van Johnson, the screen star, once worked as a stenographer for stage producers who couldn't afford a full-time secretary.

The male secretary has some definite advantage in his favor.

It is easier for him to travel with his boss on out-of-town assignments. He generally has fewer objections to staying at the office and working late hours. And—this is a big plus with many employers—he is less likely to quit his job when he gets married, unless he should happen to wed an heiress.

It would be an ironic turn of fortune's wheel if men should rout women from the typing jobs which first emancipated the fairer sex from having to depend for their livelihood by entering household service, working as sewing machine operators, and hiring out as governesses.

For throughout history the secretarial field was male-dominated until the start of this century. The Roman emperors, Julius and Augustus, although both were shorthand experts themselves, dictated their decrees to male scribes. So did industrial tycoons of the Middle Ages.

In America, as late as 1890, 10 out of every 11 secretarial positions were held by men. Then a flood of determined young ladies in mutton sleeves and high buttoned shoes began beating on office doors.

Now the tide seems to be turning a bit the other way.

DEAR HELOISE: An excellent way to mark a dress for hemming on someone not so agile, is to have that person stand at the head of some stairs.Then you sit on the next lower step.

So much easier than standing on a table.

Well, well, well, who would have THUNK IT? It's great. And you're a lollipop for writing us.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: Try this to keep your closets neat and the hangers from jamming together:

Cut cardboard wax paper and foil rolls into 1½"-widths and cover the sections with spray paint or adhesive-backed plastic. Then just place one between the hangers on your closet rod. (Remove the rod to slip them on.)

Heloise

Sure keeps everything neat and where it should be, and makes it easy to find just what you want without pushing and pulling all those clothes around.

A READER.

This is great if you store out-of-season clothes in an extra closet. Sure saves on pressing bills, too. You are a real friend.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: When our boy was in Cub Scouts and I was a Den Mother, we took part in a "Penny Carnival."

One of the games was this:

On a sheet of plywood (heavy cardboard will do) we painted three large black cats with wide-open mouths. We then supplied bean bags to throw at the pictured cats. Those children whose bags plopped into the cats' mouth won a small prize.

This proved to be so popular at the "Penny Carnival", I later painted the same design on a large pasteboard box for my brother's children.

They were so well entertained with it that my sister-in-law used the idea to amuse the children at her neighborhood club meeting.

MRS. W. VANDERHOOF.

DEAR HELOISE: I just hate to part with my comfortable "baby doll" pajamas even when the top layer of thin nylon has frayed and fallen apart.

So now I carefully cut off the top layer of net or nylon leaving the heavier "slip" underneath intact with the fancy yoke.

If the top is plain, pin a pretty ribbon or cloth flower to the neckline.

Looks like a new set and makes me feel a little nicer wearing it, too.

DIANE LUGON.

DEAR HELOISE: My beautiful old Bible was terribly dogeared.

So I flattened the corners out, sprayed on a little starch and pressed them flat with a medium iron (nylon setting).

Now my Bible looks nice again. I can hardly believe it.

This can be done with any well-read and worn book.

DIXIE.

DEAR HELOISE: You know these net bags that we get grapes, some fruits and stuff in?

Well, not long ago, I put a green one over my silver bowl and it looks ever so pretty. Certainly gives it an interesting appearance.

MRS. JACK TACKETT.

And is quite a conversation piece to boot, I'll bet.

HELOISE.

May Become Routine

'Take A Letter, Jack'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Take a letter, Jack."

That order may become routine in tomorrow's business office. For, reversing a trend of more than half a century, men are beginning to challenge women for top-paying secretarial jobs in industry.

"Of the nation's 2½ to 3 million secretaries and typists, about 98 per cent are women," said Donald Blanchard, Royal Typewriter Company executive. "But there is no doubt that more and more men are entering the field."

The prospect of male competition so far hasn't stirred panic in the bosoms of the nation's Girl Fridays, who are currently celebrating National Secretaries Week. The all-gal National Secretaries Association even has generousy amended its by-laws to admit men to membership.

The 1960 U.S. census listed only 41,752 male secretaries and 11,752 male stenographers. That's a mere dribble. But industry sources agree the number has increased steadily since then.

Why would a man want to become a secretary? A better question is—why not?

The secretarial "profession" is being upgraded all the time. It provides indoor work in pleasant surroundings, has many fringe benefits, and the pay is good—from $5,000 to $10,000 a year, or even more. Many young men see the jobs as springboards to executive posts.

And there are plenty of openings. It is expected that industry will be able to absorb 200,000 more secretaries annually for the next decade.

There is plenty of precedent for the aspiring male secretary who dreams of success.

Did you know that President Woodrow Wilson, Henry Ford, and John D. Rockefeller were expert stenographers? The late Billy Rose, multimillionaire showman, started as a stenographer for financier Bernard Baruch and won national contests for his speed at shorthand. Van Johnson, the screen star, once worked as a stenographer for stage producers who couldn't afford a full-time secretary.

The male secretary has some definite advantage in his favor.

It is easier for him to travel with his boss on out-of-town assignments. He generally has fewer objections to staying at the office and working late hours. And—this is a big plus with many employers—he is less likely to quit his job when he gets married, unless he should happen to wed an heiress.

It would be an ironic turn of fortune's wheel if men should rout women from the typing jobs which first emancipated the fairer sex from having to depend for their livelihood by entering household service, working as sewing machine operators, and hiring out as governesses.

For throughout history the secretarial field was male-dominated until the start of this century. The Roman emperors, Julius and Augustus, although both were shorthand experts themselves, dictated their decrees to male scribes. So did industrial tycoons of the Middle Ages.

In America, as late as 1890, 10 out of every 11 secretarial positions were held by men. Then a flood of determined young ladies in mutton sleeves and high buttoned shoes began beating on office doors.

Now the tide seems to be turning a bit the other way.

Is The New Season New?

Hal Humphrey

What kind of season is TV going to present to viewers next fall A taste of what's coming was witnessed by a few hundred members of the Academy of TV Arts and Sciences in Hollywood last week, when producers of the new series brought clips from most of them to show.

Not all of the 21 new series were sampled this way, but most of them were, and except for a rare instance (or maybe two) there was nothing seen to make one sit up in his seat and say, "Bravo! I'd like to see more of that."

ONE of the "rare instances" is the series, "Julia," starring Diahann Carroll, who plays a nurse, and her little boy, done by Marc Copage.

A scene between Miss Carroll and Lloyd Nolan on the telephone and another between young Marc and a neighbor boy contained some bright dialog and good acting. It will be the first situation comedy starring Negroes since Amos 'n' Andy, but it looks as if it will have more than that to distinguish it from the raft of other situation comedies.

There will be six other new series on NBC besides "Julia" and a "Monday Night at the Movies." They are "Huck Finn," "Adam 12," "The Outsider," "Fame Is the Name of the Game," "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir" and "The Phyllis Diller Show."

-:-

"NAME OF THE GAME" is a 90-minute thriller about magazine owner Gene Barry and his senior editor, Robert Stack, and reporter Tony Franciosa. The last-named two alternate escapades every other week.

"Huck Finn" is a combination of "live" action and animation, which might intrigue the kids (young ones), and "Adam 12" is the adventures of two squad car policemen out of the "Dragnet" shop.

"The Outsider" is a private eye played by Darren McGavin, who obviously is very, very tough. Hope Lange and Edward Mulhare are taking over the roles created by Gene Tierney and Rex Harrison in the 1947 movie, "Ghost and Mrs. Muir," the adventure of a widow and a ghostly sea captain.

AS FOR Phyllis Diller's show, there was no tape or film, but the assemblage was told it will be Miss Diller and name guest stars.

At ABC the new series are "Land of the Giants" (real people are only 6 inches tall in this land), "Mod Squad" (three teen-agers working for the police), "The Outcasts" (a white man and a Negro vs. the Western world), "Here Come the Brides" (100 girls ship around Cape Horn for Seattle and marriage, they hope), "Ugliest Girl in Town" (a young "Charley's Aunt" switch in London), "Journey to the Unknown" (suspense anthology from England), "That's Life" (Bobby Morse as a Broadway musical comedy type) and Don Rickles heading a game show with guest celebrities.

CBS ENTRIES include "Lancer" (a Western father and his two sons with their backs to the agebrush), "Doris Day Show" (she's a widow with two offspring and a burning desire to right injustices), "Blondie" from the comic strip and just as simple, "Hawaii Five-O" (a four-man state police unit operating in Hawaii, which apparently is envolved suddenly in a crime wave), "Two Good Guys" (described by its producer as a story of two losers, one a cab driver and the other a diner owner) and "Mayberry RFD" (an offshoot of the Andy Griffith Show with a combination farmer-city councilman taking the lead from Andy).

In years gone by, twice as many new shows have hit TV in a season as this one. The networks are getting more conservative about canceling, except for the most obvious flops (according to the rating), and the creative side of the business is afraid to get too original for fear the networks won't buy their wares.

IT WOULD BE unfair to judge next season by watching a minute or so of film clips from most of the new series, but after 18 years of watching new season debuts one develops an awfully sharp sense of smell where TV is concerned, and my nose twitched only once or twice at what I saw unveiled for the Academy members, who, by the way, were disappointed to find so few job opportunities in the 21 new series.

Most of the jobs already are taken — at least until the producer knows he's going to get renewed after 17 shows.

1,000-Man Strike Against Dravo Ends

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A 1,000-man strike against the Dravo Corp. is over.

Officials said 200 men in the shipyard voted to let a grievance committee handle the dispute over a job assisgnment.

The workers, members of Local 61 of the International Marine and Shipbuilders Union, walked out last Tuesday and were joined two days later by 800 men at a metal fabricating plant.

Senate Confirms Marvin Watson As Postal Head

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate confirmed without dissent Tuesday President Johnson's nomination of White House aide and fellow Texan W. Marvin Watson to be postmaster general.

There were only a half dozen senators on the floor when the nomination was approved by unanimous consent.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., chairman of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee, said he has never heard a nominee praised more highly than was Watson during a hearing which ended only 90 minutes before the Senate acted.

Watson succeeds Lawrence F. O'Brien, who resigned earlier this month to aid Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., in his campaign for the Democratic nomination for president.

Watson acted as Johnson's chief lieutenant in political matters until the President announced March 31 he is not seeking another term. There was no mention on the Senate floor of Watson's past political role.

Primary Vote Urged For Sen. Lausche

EATON, Ohio (AP) — President Fred J. Milligan of Ohio Information Committee says voters who usually vote only in November can assure Sen. Frank J. Lausche's nomination for a third term by voting in the May 7 primary.

Milligan said in remarks to a civic club here that Ohioans know Lausche, a Democrat, "as an independent and because he is an independent, they have elected him governor five times and U.S. senator twice.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Grapefruit Stimulates Appetites

Q. — There is a new theory that grapefruit before each meal will not only curb the appetiite but also burn up the fats and carbohydrates in the system. Is this true?

Dr. Brandstadt

A — No, to both parts of the question. Grapefruit is often given as a first course to stimulate the appetite. It can't both curb and stimulate. Neither does it have any mysterious burning power, despite the claims of the fad - of - the-month club.

Q — Would you recommend tomato juice for arthritic patients? What foods are best for elderly people?

A—There is no specific diet for arthritis. Insofar as tomato juice may be a part of a well-balanced diet, it can be taken as a food, not as a treatment, for arthritis.

Elderly persons need a balanced diet just like everybody else. Unfortunately, a lot of them, for one reason or another, don't get it.

Q — I am 65 and have been warned by friends against eating cheese. I have eaten about a pound a week for many years with no ill effects that I know of. In the least two months, my nails have been breaking. Could eating so much cheese be the reason?

A — No — cheese is good for you. A lack of an adequate amount of vitamins A and D in your diet is one possible cause for your brittle nails.

Q — Will eating too much black pepper do any harm? Does it have any beneficial effect?

A — Too much of anything is harmful. In small amounts, pepper stimulates the appetite but in persons with peptic ulcer, hiatus hernia, gall bladder disease or any other condition calling for a bland diet, this stimulation becomes an irritation. The amount of tolerance for highly spiced foods varies widely from person to person and in the same person at different times in his life.

Q — I have heard that raw cabbage juice will cure an ulcer but may cause stomach cancer. Is this true?

A — Fresh cabbage juice has been used in the treatment of peptic ulcer but has never gained wide acceptance. It will not cause cancer.

Q — What is the vegetable gum that I find listed as an ingredient of many packaged foods? Why is it added to foods?

A — The gums used as additives include carob bean, carragheen (Irish moss) and guar. All are harmless. They are added to insure a smoother consistency, prevent separating of some of the components and to guard against evaporation of the flavor in volatile oils.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Report Denied Bailey Offered Lausche Backing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic National Committee has denied a report that its chairman, John M. Bailey, offered a public endorsement to Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, in his bid for renomination.

William McSweeney, National Committee public affairs director, said "It is not the policy of the Democratic National Committee to become involved in state primaries."

Lausche is seeking nomination to run for a third term in Congress. Ohio party leaders and the Ohio AFL-CIO have endorsed his primary opponent, John J. Gilligan.

Lausche could not be reached for comment on the reports.

After McSweeney commented Tuesday, Gilligan called a news conference in Columbus, Ohio, at which he accused Lausche of "leaking" a story that he (Lausche) turned down the supposed offer from Bailey.

Gilligan called it "a desperate effort to suggest that he had some Democratic support in Washington, even if he has none in Ohio."

FBI Charges Ohioan In Bowling Alley Fire

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The FBI has charged a 20-year-old bowling alley employe with destruction of government in connection with a $150,000 fire at a bowling alley.

The FBI listed the man as James William Wilson of Fairborn, a civilian employe at the bowling lanes at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. The lanes burned April 16 and the FBI said Wilson was working there at the time.

Westinghouse Puts Fox Head Of Beaver Plant

BEAVER, Pa. (AP) — Four Westinghouse Electric Corp. standard control division executives have been named to new posts, the company announced today.

F. R. Fox has been named manager of the Beaver Westinghouse plant. Replacing Fox as division engineering manager is Z. J. Kruzic, formerly engineering development manager.

A. J. Cook has been appointed vice president and general manager of Westinghouse Controls Inc., a division subsidiary located in Toa Baja, Puerto Rico.

W. O. Carlsen, manager of the division's distribution equipment department in St. Louis, will now assume responsibilities for department activities at plants in San Lorenzo, Calif., Cincinnati and St. Louis.

The appointments were announced by A. J. Hendry, division general manager.

$1.8 Billion Military Projects Advanced

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to authorize $1,818,493,000 worth of military construction projects in this country and aboard was approved Tuesday by the House Armed Services Committee.

The only construction authorized for Ohio called for a $265,000 expenditure at the Newark Air Force Station.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Is The New Season New?

What kind of season is TV going to present to viewers next fall A taste of what's coming was witnessed by a few hundred members of the Academy of TV Arts and Sciences in Hollywood last week, when producers of the new series brought clips from most of them to show.

Hal Humphrey

Not all of the 21 new series were sampled this way, but most of them were, and except for a rare instance (or maybe two) there was nothing seen to make one sit up in his seat and say, "Bravo! I'd like to see more of that."

—:—

ONE of the "rare instances" is the series, "Julia," starring Diahann Carroll, who plays a nurse, and her little boy, done by Marc Copage.

A scene between Miss Carroll and Lloyd Nolan on the telephone and another between young Marc and a neighbor boy contained some bright dialog and good acting. It will be the first situation comedy starring Negroes since Amos 'n' Andy, but it looks as if it will have more than that to distinguish it from the raft of other situation comedies.

There will be six other new series on NBC besides "Julia" and a "Monday Night at the Movies." They are "Huck Finn," "Adam 12," "The Outsider," "Fame Is the Name of the Game," "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir" and "The Phyllis Diller Show."

-:-

"NAME OF THE GAME" is a 90-minute thriller about magazine owner Gene Barry and his senior editor, Robert Stack, and reporter Tony Franciosa. The last-named two alternate escapades every other week.

"Huck Finn" is a combination of "live" action and animation, which might intrigue the kids (young ones), and "Adam 12" is the adventures of two squad car policemen out of the "Dragnet" shop.

"The Outsider" is a private eye played by Darren McGavin, who obviously is very, very tough. Hope Lange and Edward Mulhare are taking over the roles created by Gene Tierney and Rex Harrison in the 1947 movie, "Ghost and Mrs. Muir," the adventure of a widow and a ghostly sea captain.

AS FOR Phyllis Diller's show, there was no tape or film, but the assemblage was told it will be Miss Diller and name guest stars.

At ABC the new series are "Land of the Giants" (real people are only 6 inches tall in this land), "Mod Squad" (three teen-agers working for the police), "The Outcasts" (a white man and a Negro vs. the Western world), "Here Come the Brides" (100 girls ship around Cape Horn for Seattle and marriage, they hope), "Ugliest Girl in Town" (a young "Charley's Aunt" switch in London), "Journey to the Unknown" (suspense anthology from England), "That's Life" (Bobby Morse as a Broadway musical comedy type) and Don Rickles heading a game show with guest celebrities.

CBS ENTRIES include "Lancer" (a Western father and his two sons with their backs to the agebrush), "Doris Day Show" (she's a widow with two offspring and a burning desire to right injustices), "Blondie" from the comic strip and just as simple, "Hawaii Five-O" (a four-man state police unit operating in Hawaii, which apparently is envolved suddenly in a crime wave), "Two Good Guys" (described by its producer as a story of two losers, one a cab driver and the other a diner owner) and "Mayberry RFD" (an offshoot of the Andy Griffith Show with a combination farmer-city councilman taking the lead from Andy).

In years gone by, twice as many new shows have hit TV in a season as this one. The networks are getting more conservative about canceling, except for the most obvious flops (according to the rating), and the creative side of the business is afraid to get too original for fear the networks won't buy their wares.

IT WOULD BE unfair to judge next season by watching a minute or so of film clips from most of the new series, but after 18 years of watching new season debuts one develops an awfully sharp sense of smell where TV is concerned, and my nose twitched only once or twice at what I saw unveiled for the Academy members, who, by the way, were disappointed to find so few job opportunities in the 21 new series.

Most of the jobs already are taken — at least until the producer knows he's going to get renewed after 17 shows.

1,000-Man Strike Against Dravo Ends

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A 1,000-man strike against the Dravo Corp. is over.

Officials said 200 men in the shipyard voted to let a grievance committee handle the dispute over a job assisgnment.

The workers, members of Local 61 of the International Marine and Shipbuilders Union, walked out last Tuesday and were joined two days later by 800 men at a metal fabricating plant.

Senate Confirms Marvin Watson As Postal Head

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate confirmed without dissent Tuesday President Johnson's nomination of White House aide and fellow Texan W. Marvin Watson to be postmaster general.

There were only a half dozen senators on the floor when the nomination was approved by unanimous consent.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., chairman of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee, said he has never heard a nominee praised more highly than was Watson during a hearing which ended only 90 minutes before the Senate acted.

Watson succeeds Lawrence F. O'Brien, who resigned earlier this month to aid Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., in his campaign for the Democratic nomination for president.

Watson acted as Johnson's chief lieutenant in political matters until the President announced March 31 he is not seeking another term. There was no mention on the Senate floor of Watson's past political role.

Primary Vote Urged For Sen. Lausche

EATON, Ohio (AP) — President Fred J. Milligan of Ohio Information Committee says voters who usually vote only in November can assure Sen. Frank J. Lausche's nomination for a third term by voting in the May 7 primary.

Milligan said in remarks to a civic club here that Ohioans know Lausche, a Democrat, "as an independent and because he is an independent, they have elected him governor five times and U.S. senator twice.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Grapefruit Stimulates Appetites

Q. — There is a new theory that grapefruit before each meal will not only curb the appetiite but also burn up the fats and carbohydrates in the system. Is this true?

Dr. Brandstadt

A — No, to both parts of the question. Grapefruit is often given as a first course to stimulate the appetite. It can't both curb and stimulate. Neither does it have any mysterious burning power, despite the claims of the fad - of - the-month club.

Q — Would you recommend tomato juice for arthritic patients? What foods are best for elderly people?

A—There is no specific diet for arthritis. Insofar as tomato juice may be a part of a well-balanced diet, it can be taken as a food, not as a treatment, for arthritis.

Elderly persons need a balanced diet just like everybody else. Unfortunately, a lot of them, for one reason or another, don't get it.

Q — I am 65 and have been warned by friends against eating cheese. I have eaten about a pound a week for many years with no ill effects that I know of. In the least two months, my nails have been breaking. Could eating so much cheese be the reason?

A — No — cheese is good for you. A lack of an adequate amount of vitamins A and D in your diet is one possible cause for your brittle nails.

Q — Will eating too much black pepper do any harm? Does it have any beneficial effect?

A — Too much of anything is harmful. In small amounts, pepper stimulates the appetite but in persons with peptic ulcer, hiatus hernia, gall bladder disease or any other condition calling for a bland diet, this stimulation becomes an irritation. The amount of tolerance for highly spiced foods varies widely from person to person and in the same person at different times in his life.

Q — I have heard that raw cabbage juice will cure an ulcer but may cause stomach cancer. Is this true?

A — Fresh cabbage juice has been used in the treatment of peptic ulcer but has never gained wide acceptance. It will not cause cancer.

Q — What is the vegetable gum that I find listed as an ingredient of many packaged foods? Why is it added to foods?

A — The gums used as additives include carob bean, carragheen (Irish moss) and guar. All are harmless. They are added to insure a smoother consistency, prevent separating of some of the components and to guard against evaporation of the flavor in volatile oils.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Report Denied Bailey Offered Lausche Backing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic National Committee has denied a report that its chairman, John M. Bailey, offered a public endorsement to Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, in his bid for renomination.

William McSweeney, National Committee public affairs director, said "It is not the policy of the Democratic National Committee to become involved in state primaries."

Lausche is seeking nomination to run for a third term in Congress. Ohio party leaders and the Ohio AFL-CIO have endorsed his primary opponent, John J. Gilligan.

Lausche could not be reached for comment on the reports.

After McSweeney commented Tuesday, Gilligan called a news conference in Columbus, Ohio, at which he accused Lausche of "leaking" a story that he (Lausche) turned down the supposed offer from Bailey.

Gilligan called it "a desperate effort to suggest that he had some Democratic support in Washington, even if he has none in Ohio."

FBI Charges Ohioan In Bowling Alley Fire

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The FBI has charged a 20-year-old bowling alley employe with destruction of government in connection with a $150,000 fire at a bowling alley.

The FBI listed the man as James William Wilson of Fairborn, a civilian employe at the bowling lanes at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. The lanes burned April 16 and the FBI said Wilson was working there at the time.

Westinghouse Puts Fox Head Of Beaver Plant

BEAVER, Pa. (AP) — Four Westinghouse Electric Corp. standard control division executives have been named to new posts, the company announced today.

F. R. Fox has been named manager of the Beaver Westinghouse plant. Replacing Fox as division engineering manager is Z. J. Kruzic, formerly engineering development manager.

A. J. Cook has been appointed vice president and general manager of Westinghouse Controls Inc., a division subsidiary located in Toa Baja, Puerto Rico.

W. O. Carlsen, manager of the division's distribution equipment department in St. Louis, will now assume responsibilities for department activities at plants in San Lorenzo, Calif., Cincinnati and St. Louis.

The appointments were announced by A. J. Hendry, division general manager.

$1.8 Billion Military Projects Advanced

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to authorize $1,818,493,000 worth of military construction projects in this country and aboard was approved Tuesday by the House Armed Services Committee.

The only construction authorized for Ohio called for a $265,000 expenditure at the Newark Air Force Station.

A Junior Editors Quiz About MINERALS

QUESTION: What are the main kinds of minerals?

ANSWER: Remember the old guessing game in which you asked if some object was animal, vegetable or mineral? It emphasized the distinction that animals and vegetables are alive; while a mineral is not. All minerals are thought to have once been fluid or molten, most of them later having become solid. There are too many minerals to list here, but it will help to understand about the two main divisions, metallic and non-metallic. Metals are sometimes found in a pure state, like copper, but are generally combined, in a natural state, with other materials. They then are called ores. Metallic rocks are heavy and usually shiny, with metal-like luster. Non-metallic rocks are lighter. Most are somewhat transparent, so that one can see light through a thin edge. Many have crystal shapes and resemble glass. Collecting minerals makes a wonderful hobby, for many have interesting shapes and marvelous colors. Minerals are extremely important in food. We all know good old table salt, but did you realize that sodium, iron, phosphorous, calcium are all vital to our health? We get them the easy way, by eating delicious foods like milk, cheese, vegetables, fruits and eggs.

Dianne Barner of Clintondale, Pa., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review, is selected for a prize.

A Junior Editors Quiz About MINERALS

QUESTION: What are the main kinds of minerals?

ANSWER: Remember the old guessing game in which you asked if some object was animal, vegetable or mineral? It emphasized the distinction that animals and vegetables are alive; while a mineral is not. All minerals are thought to have once been fluid or molten, most of them later having become solid. There are too many minerals to list here, but it will help to understand about the two main divisions, metallic and non-metallic. Metals are sometimes found in a pure state, like copper, but are generally combined, in a natural state, with other materials. They then are called ores. Metallic rocks are heavy and usually shiny, with metal-like luster. Non-metallic rocks are lighter. Most are somewhat transparent, so that one can see light through a thin edge. Many have crystal shapes and resemble glass. Collecting minerals makes a wonderful hobby, for many have interesting shapes and marvelous colors. Minerals are extremely important in food. We all know good old table salt, but did you realize that sodium, iron, phosphorous, calcium are all vital to our health? We get them the easy way, by eating delicious foods like milk, cheese, vegetables, fruits and eggs.
